

How to Use the New WEB-OPAC

Searching the DLSU library's holdings for books, digital records, and more is easy with the new Web-OPAC. And not only that. One could save selected records in a book cart and email or save the list in the local disk. All one needs is to know and click the proper icons whose functions are explained here. To start go to the site: <http://lib1000.dlsu.edu.ph> or <http://www.dlsu.edu.ph/library>. At the DLSU Library website go to Quick Links and click Catalog and Index or go to Library Services and click on the Millennium Web OPAC.

Home link. Home button brings you to the main page.

Help link. Clicking this button will bring you to help page and show you tips on how to search.

New search link. Clicking this button will take you to the page for submitting a new search.

Click on these icons to find other informations.

Featured item lists contain the new acquisitions and special bibliographies.

Course reserves will identify and locate materials placed at the reserve section upon the request of faculty members.

Search Tips is similar to Help Link.

Click this icon to save selected/marked records

Click this icon to view saved records and to send your list to email, screen, or local disk in any of the these formats; full display, brief display, or MARC format.

Click this icon for advanced key word search. The pulldown menus help limit searches to specified collection, location, language, and type of materials.

Click this View your patron record button to check your holding status. To activate this, type your ID number in the barcode window and supply your own 4-digit up to 6-digit Personalized Identification Number (PIN). Remember your PIN. This should not be shared with anyone.

This Library Info icon will give you more information about the library news and events, its services and assistance, policies and procedures, etc. It will be activated before the end of the term.

Click this if you want to do another search.

What users say about the new WEB-OPAC...

You don't need to memorize hotkeys or other shortcut keys. And the displays are understandable. Thanks.

Noel B. Pantig, Med. Phy. Student, COS

This new web OPAC is much accessible compared with the old one. The concept of sending the cart list to the email is very good.

Edgrado L. Borigas, Jr., MEE, COE

Graphical user interface. It has a bookcart. User friendly.

CJ Elizaga Jr. BSMEE, COE

Varied ways of locating/searching books. It's user friendly and includes a lot of info (details) about our search.

Rheena Babanto, MSGC, CED

User friendly and it's faster compared to the old system.

Valerie Legarde, BMG, CBE

More systematic. Easier to look for the books.

Dr. Ismael Maningas, Professor, TRED, CLA

Very helpful. Thank God there is a thing like this in the library.

Antonio Hila, Professor, History Dept. CLA

Use of T-Series Terminated

The use of the T-Series (formerly TINLIB) OPAC was terminated effective Monday, March 8, 2004. This was replaced by the new WEBOPAC at <http://lib1000.dlsu.edu.ph> which started its operation since January 9 of this year. The T-series was granted by Department of Science and Technology in support to the Engineering and Science Program since 1995. It has run the major functionality of the library covering the acquisition, cataloging, circulation, and information retrieval and report generation. It has established the culture of on-line on-site and remote access to information among the DLSU academic community. Its development ceased when its business office folded up about three (3) years ago.

Likewise, the books, av materials, periodical holdings, theses databases under CDS-ISIS (Computerized Documentation System-Integrated Set of Information Systems) OPAC have been removed and now accessible in the new WEBOPAC.

DLSU and PAARL Host Forum

The DLSU Vice-President for Academics and Research Office, headed by Dr. Allan Benedict I. Bernardo, in cooperation with the Philippine Association of Academic and Research Libraries (PAARL), hosted an academic forum with Visiting Prof. John Willinsky of Pacific Press, Professor of Literacy and Technology from the University of British Columbia, Vancouver, Canada. Dr. Willinsky talked on the topic of online and open access publishing and on the potential contribution of online scholarly resources for building local research capacity. He demonstrated these new online publishing systems and worked directly with editors, faculty, and administrators on ways of implementing a system. The forum was held at the Ariston Estrada Seminar Room last Feb 16. It was attended by more than 60 participants who are involved in academic research and scholarly publishing from DLSU, DLSU-Press and other nearby academic institutions like St. Scholastica's College, Philippine Institute for Development Studies, St. Paul's College, San Beda College, UP-Manila, Lyceum, PWU, and UST.
