Your abstract should be less than 300 words. It should summarize the significance of the topic, techniques employed, advantages of data presented and significance of the results obtained. It should give the readers enough information to determine if they wish to read the whole paper. This abstract will be what appears in the abstract book distributed at the conference. Please do not exceed 300 words and do not include tables or figures. Authors are requested to select a maximum of six keywords and should be mentioned below the abstract with a single spacing between them.

Keywords: Maximum six words, RSCE 2013, manuscript, Bohol, Philippines

INTRODUCTION

The introduction of your paper should state in approximately 400-700 words the nature of the research and why you are studying it. It should provide background information about the work and its significance, while highlighting other relevant literature and specifying how it relates to or differs from your work. You should also discuss the scope and limitations of your study in the introduction.

PAPER FORMAT/BODY

The manuscript text shall be typeset in full-justified 11 point Times New Roman. Same type font shall be used throughout the text (except title and authors name and affiliation, and label for the Figures and Tables). The body of the manuscript should be type set in double-column, single-space format on one side of the sheet. The title should be centered across the full page with the first letter of each major word in capital letters. It should be typed in bold face using 14-point Times Roman Font. Use 12 point Times Roman font for author names, and italic 10-point Times Roman font for author(s) affiliation and address information. Section headings should be bold faced, capitalized, and left justified.

The main section heading should be typed in bold and capitalized on a separate line and should not be underlined. A single space between section main headings and texts is required. The page limit for each paper is eight A4 (210 x 297mm) pages with 2.0 cm top, bottom and right margins and 2.54 cm left margin. Please make sure you adhere to this limit. We will be unable to include in the proceeding papers in excess of this page limit. No page numbers should appear on the manuscript.

Major headings, such as INTRODUCTION, OBJECTIVES, MATERIALS AND METHODS, RESULTS AND DISCUSSION, CONCLUSIONS, ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS and REFERENCES should be in full capitals and left justified.

Sub Sections, Tables and Figures

Sub headings appear in lower case, left justified and boldface. Figures should be numbered consecutively, and placed after it is mentioned in the text. To save space, text may be wrapped around

Units of Measurements

The use of S.I. units (Systeme Internationale d’Unites) in papers is mandatory.

Photographs and Equations

Figures and photographs should be sharp, high contrast and black and white glossy prints only. Equations shall be centered. The equations shall also be numbered and their respective number shall be given in parentheses and aligned flush with right hand margin. A single spacing should be used between text, following figures and their titles.

CONCLUSIONS

This section should highlight key findings and compare the results of your work to others as appropriate. Conclusions should be based on the evidence in your paper. Discuss how your work contributes to other studies.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

If your paper contains acknowledgments, they should be placed after the conclusion but before the references.

REFERENCES

Provide a list of references at the end of the paper. Footnotes should be avoided. The reference section should follow immediately after the acknowledgement section. Your references to published literature should be quoted in the text by authors last name and year (use both authors’ last names if two, first author and et. al. when more than two). References should be listed at the end of the paper in alphabetical order, based on author’s patentee’s, or editors last name. Your references can include italic and/or boldface type as appropriate. Examples of reference formatting are given here.

PAPER SUBMISSION

Please make sure you have followed the proposed paper format. The deadline for submission is on August 15, 2013.

Email: rsce2013.dlsu@gmail.com.

If you do not adhere to the formatting instructions in this style guide, your submission may not be published in the conference proceedings in any form. If your paper is not received by the closing date, it will be classified as an unreviewed article.

Thank you for your co-operation and contributions. We look forward to receiving your papers.
