

Application Form: AusAID International Seminar Support Scheme

The APMF President will be submitting an application to the AusAID International Seminar Support Scheme (ISSS), on behalf of non-OECD delegates for the 2013 Summit in Manila. The ISSS is a highly competitive Australian Government funding opportunity administered by AusAID. The ISSS funds non-OECD professionals' active participation in international development-oriented seminars in Australia and overseas. The scheme's purpose is to support knowledge and technical expertise development in non-OECD countries, and to build linkages between the government, academic and community sectors in Australia and partner countries.

If you are a peace, mediation or conflict transformation professional from a non-OECD country in the Asia Pacific region and require support (limited to an economy airfare, accommodation and a small per diem payment) to attend the 2013 APMF Summit in Manila and would like to be included in the AusAID ISSS application process, please submit this complete application form and send it by email before April 15, 2013, to the APMF President, Dr Dale Bagshaw: dale.bagshaw@unisa.edu.au

Please note, the AusAID ISSS application process is highly competitive and applicants will be expected to play an active role in the Summit by presenting a paper or leading a group etc. Candidates will be notified immediately if the application process is successful. Applicants who are successful will be required to bring all receipts to the Manila Summit so that reimbursements can be made in person and they will be required to write a report immediately after the Summit. Australian citizens cannot apply.
