

MECHANICAL ENGINEERING COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

The Mechanical Engineering Department held a basic welding seminar on August 18 and 26 2017. At Miguel Ground Floor, Lecture room at M113 and actual hands on welding at the ME welding and Foundry area.

The lecture seminar was facilitated by Engr. Isidro Antonio V. Marfori III. The participant came from Barangay 711 Malate, Manila Leveriza near the De La Salle University. The welding seminar tackles the basic welding safety and precautions, Basic Welding Equipment and safety attire. Types of welding and welds. Actual Hands on welding Engr. Marfori explain to the participant the basics of welding and safety.

Engr. Marfori discusses how to properly handle the welding machine and welding rod. He instruct and show the participant different ways on how to tackle the properly welding points and avoid weld faults. What safety precaution to take before the welding operation. Recognize the fumes and other hazard before starting the operation. Understand how to properly use the PPE, equipment and prevent injuries during welding operation.

Participants have their hands on practice on basic welding.

Participants have their hands on practice on basic welding.

At the end of the welding seminar each participant was given a certificate of basic welding seminar held at DLSU conducted by the ME Dept. signed by Engr. Isidro Antonio Marfori, Chair of ME Dept Dr. Laurence Gan Lim and the GCOE Dean Dr. Jonathar R. Dungca.