DLSU VISION-MISSION

PREAMBLE

De La Salle University is an internationally recognized Catholic university in the Philippines established by the Brothers of the Christian Schools in 1911. Inspired by the charism of St John Baptist de La Salle, the University community, together and by association, provides quality human and Christian education by teaching minds, touching hearts, and transforming lives.

VISION-MISSION

A leading learner-centered and research university, bridging faith and scholarship, attuned to a sustainable Earth, and in the service of Church and society, especially the poor and marginalized.

CORE VALUES

Faith

DLSU is committed to nurturing a community of distinguished and morally upright scholars that harmonizes faith and life with contemporary knowledge in order to generate and propagate new knowledge for human development and social transformation.

Service

DLSU is committed to being a resource for Church and Nation and to being socially responsible in building a just, peaceful, stable, and progressive Filipino nation.

Communion

DLSU is committed to building a community of leaders, competent professionals, scholars, researchers, and entrepreneurs, who will participate actively in improving the quality of life in Philippine society within the perspective of Christian ideals and values.
STATEMENT ON DIVERSITY AND INCLUSIVITY

Pursuant to the University Mission and Vision as a Catholic institution of higher learning, De La Salle University is fully committed to fostering an open and tolerant community, and as such, does not discriminate based on age, religion, race and ethnicity, political and cultural views, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, on issues of employment and career progression. Equal opportunities are made available to all employees.
TWELVE VIRTUES OF A LASALLIAN LEADER

Adapted from Br. Agathon’s Virtues of a Teacher, the virtues are grounded on the Lasallian core values of Faith, Service, and Communion in Mission. As Lasallian educators, we aspire to live by these values and conscientiously practice them in the workplace.

Silence – A Lasallian leader avoids unnecessary talk. He/She teaches the art of being silent and that of speaking opportunely. Experience is telling. In choosing silence, he/she reserves his/her words for the best time and reason.

Wisdom – To a Lasallian leader, wisdom is a sublime science which directs behavior and balances passions for the genuine happiness of all. It enables him/her to discern signs and patterns. It allows for the greater appreciation of the eternal, enriching himself and the community he/she serves.

Piety – Through piety, a Lasallian leader fulfills worthily his/her duties for God. He/She guides and leads others in religious sentiments. He/She teaches others to make their actions meritorious by offering them to God and knowing how to ask for help to perform his/her duties well.

Patience – Patience makes us overcome without murmuring and with submission to the will of God all the evils and cares of this life. A Lasallian leader understands that patience is not a shield or a respite from suffering.

Prudence – Prudence makes one see what is necessary from what is to be avoided, thereby, turning away from regrettable misunderstandings. A Lasallian leader must deliberate carefully, judge rightly and order his/her affairs properly.

Gravity – A Lasallian leader exudes the spirit of modesty, politeness, and good order. No crass or harsh words are uttered, and fear is eschewed. Instead, compassion, self-mastery and good humor are exuded as evidence of a wise and mature mind.

Zeal – Zeal is the energy to pursue the glory of God with great affection. A Lasallian leader is a passionate individual who leads by example.

Generosity – Generosity allows a Lasallian leader to sacrifice voluntarily his/her personal interests for the benefit of others. This virtue seeks to make others happy, whether by instruction, advice, or through good example with no other motive than to serve and glorify God.

Humility – A Lasallian leader is a person of character, true to oneself, and not caught in titles, honors and fame.

Reserve – Reserve is a quality that fuels us to think, speak and act with moderation, discretion, and modesty. A Lasallian leader knows that a careless or impassioned word, gesture or reaction can create unjustified attention.

Gentleness – Gentleness brings out goodness, sensitivity, and tenderness. A Lasallian leader judges and corrects without harshness, behaves in accordance with good principles, and acts with simplicity and uprightness.

Vigilance – Vigilance makes us diligent, allows us to accomplish that which is good and enables us to fulfill our obligations worthily.

8. They avoid conduct which runs counter to the moral standards of society.
GENERAL STATEMENT ON THE RESPONSIBILITIES AND RIGHTS OF DLSU FACULTY

A. Statement of Responsibilities

De La Salle University faculty members, consistent with the University Mission Statement of a Catholic educational institution, embody the Lasallian spirit and are active propagators of this spirit, serving as a resource for Church and Nation.

In the pursuit of their endeavors and in the fulfillment of their responsibilities, the faculty members are expected to:

1. observe intellectual honesty in their search for, use, and transmission of knowledge;
2. uphold and pursue legitimate inquiry and accept objective criticism of their work;
3. fulfill their roles as intellectual guides and counselors to students, treating them with due fairness and concern;
4. respect the beliefs of their colleagues and students;
5. adhere to the established and acceptable norms of behavior in the University community, in particular, and society, in general; and
6. adhere to the mission statement and the values De La Salle University stands for — Christian, Catholic, Lasallian.

B. Statement of Rights

The University recognizes the rights of the faculty enumerated as follows:

1. The inherent right to enjoy academic freedom:

   Faculty members have the right to enjoy academic freedom in accordance with the Philippine Constitution and current jurisprudence.

   Academic freedom of faculty is viewed as the right of the faculty member to pursue his/her studies in his/her particular specialization and thereafter to make known or publish the result of his/her endeavors without fear that retribution would be visited on him/her in the event that his conclusions are found distasteful or objectionable to the powers that be, whether in the political, economic, or academic establishments.

   It is the freedom of professionally qualified persons to inquire, discover, publish, and teach the truth as they see it in the field of their competence. It is subject to no control or authority except the control or authority of the rational methods by which truths or conclusions are sought and established in these disciplines.*

* Garcia v. The Faculty Admission Committee, Loyola School of Theology, 68 SCRA 277, 283-284 (1975).
2. The right to be consulted and be heard on matters that affect the faculty individually and collectively. The faculty has the right to effective participation in the process of decision making at all levels. They shall be represented to the fullest extent possible in the various bodies that formulate policies, subject to the existing by-laws and policies of such bodies (Appendix I). Being heard includes assent or dissent without fear of any form of reprisal, sanction or harassment from colleagues and administrators. After a decision is reached, pertinent information shall be disseminated to the general faculty before policies are fully implemented.

In cases where a policy turns out to put additional burden on the functions that faculty perform, faculty members, through proper channels, may seek a review or repeal of the policy.

3. The right to participate in the determination of benefits, privileges and just salaries commensurate to the qualifications of the faculty and the demands imposed on them by the University (in accordance with Art. 13, Sec. 3, Philippine Constitution).

4. The right to information that affects them, individually or collectively. Except in emergency situations, the University should ensure that prior to any decision, information should have been effectively disseminated by different modes to faculty members to ensure their involvement in decision-making.

In cases of decisions affecting the status of a faculty member, he/she is entitled to a formal explanation of the grounds for such decisions.

5. The inherent right to organize among themselves (Art. III, Sec. 8, Philippine Constitution, Appendix O).

6. The right to academic and professional growth and development within the University as well as outside, provided that such activities do not interfere with the efficient performance of the academic duties and functions of the faculty.

7. The right to seek redress of grievance.

8. The right to due process. Any faculty member can only be held accountable and suffer the consequences of any allegation of a violation of this manual, or of the established Lasallian values, only after guilt is proven after a well-documented process where the faculty is provided the opportunity to defend himself/herself. In no way would undocumented and anonymous complaints will be entertained. Furthermore, no faculty member can be subjected to grievance procedures outside the specified grievance mechanisms defined in this manual. In no way would promotion, reclassification, renewal, permanency, and service extensions boards be used as venues to hear grievances without satisfying the due process requirement, and only after finding of guilt is established.

In situations that Lasallian values are invoked, and when grievance arises, any adverse claim against any faculty member can be made only after determination by a properly documented administrative or grievance procedure, where the faculty will be accorded the right to due process. Provided further, that such a process is resorted to only after a formative mechanism has been tried but is unsuccessful. This formative process takes into consideration the role of dialogue and sense of community in maintaining collegiality and harmony in the departments and units, and where any psycho-social, psychiatric, and neurological factor, as provided for in RA 11036 or the Mental Health Law, has been considered.

9. The right to undergo a formative, developmental process of mediation. Any faculty member has the right to first undergo a mediation process and be subjected to formative activities, to correct and address any violation or any action otherwise punishable before any formal proceeding can be initiated against him or her. However, this right may not be invoked in case of serious ethical violations that are so egregious, such as extorting money from students, and/or for offenses that are punishable under criminal laws.
FULL-TIME ACADEMIC FACULTY

A. EMPLOYMENT NORMS AND CONDITIONS

1. General Functions

Full-time academic teaching faculty members are those who are hired on a full-time basis. They are expected to continually participate in the University’s pursuance of its mission. In this regard, they are to fully concentrate on the following interrelated functions relevant to the positions they occupy:

1.1. Teaching. Teaching, a primary activity in the University, is understood to mean the act of facilitating the acquisition of knowledge and skills with confidence and direction, geared towards the development of the analytical and creative faculties of students. Furthermore, the function of teaching includes specific tasks, such as student consultation, academic advising, and all other initiatives that facilitate the process of learning.

In this connection, the faculty members shall determine course requirements for their classes and evaluate and grade the performance of their students in accordance with departmental policies on course content and grading system. The faculty members have the sole prerogative to give the grade for each student and change of grade may be made only with the consent and actual submission of the faculty member of the Change of Grade form.

Teachers shall be deemed persons in authority in the discharge of lawful duties and responsibilities and shall therefore be accorded due respect and protection.

1.2 Research. Research, the other primary activity of the University, reflects the level of disciplinal specialization attained by the individual and the entire academic faculty. De La Salle University faculty members continually explore areas of inquiry through various forms of research. These forms include basic/applied research, materials development, papers for local and international conferences, articles, monographs, books for publication, research/seminar papers for graduate studies, feasibility studies, creative works and other research output related to external professional activities (e.g., consultancies, etc.).

Moreover, the research of full-time academic faculty should address the requirements of the discipline and the thrusts of the University.

1.3 Social Engagement. As an extension of their academic functions, full-time academic teaching faculty members participate in various councils/committees/boards that program/plan/implement curricular and co-curricular activities and engage in peer evaluation and academic advising upon request.

1Education Act of 1982 (Batas Pambansa 232)
Full-time academic teaching faculty members participate in social engagement programs either in University-sponsored community extension projects or in their own community/sectoral/professional organizations, in government/non-government, and international organizations. Participation of faculty members in these activities are regarded as part of their professional and personal commitment to the academic profession.

Social engagement is a process by which an individual or an organization participates in meaningful and collaborative relationships with a community to address socio-political-economic-cultural issues to develop awareness and critical consciousness towards contributing to social and structural transformation.

A Lasallian social engagement may include consultancy, extension programs and any other collaborative work with communities and organizations where the Lasallian Mission is shared — providing Christian and Human education/transformation. Any engagement opportunity such as, but not limited to, the various social engagement activities listed in Appendix N, is an opportunity for formation — where the values of faith, service, and communion are espoused.

1.4 Academic Development and Professional Growth. Full-time academic teaching faculty members continuously develop their knowledge and skills within the discipline to which they belong. The University shall ensure that they are given support in pursuing graduate studies and in participating in conferences/seminars and training programs to fulfill the above-mentioned expectation in accordance with the provisions of the existing Faculty Development Program.

The University also recognizes the reality that faculty members must engage in other professional activities similarly meant to upgrade their skills and knowledge within their respective fields. In this regard, the University allows, within agreed-upon norms and University policies, the involvement of faculty members in discipline-related consultancies or projects beyond the confines of the academic community.

2. Working Hours and Load

2.1 Full-time academic teaching faculty shall devote forty (40) hours a week in academic work that include any or all the functions mentioned above. Twenty-five (25) hours of the total number shall be devoted to activities within the University. This shall include twelve (12) hours [for COL this will be fourteen (14) hours] which shall be devoted to teaching and/or research, two and a half (2 1/2) hours which shall be devoted to student consultation for every three (3) units of teaching, and at least three (3) hours which shall be devoted for academic advising, committee work, and/or task assignment described in 1.3 (University and Social engagement) and 1.4 (Academic Development and Professional Growth).
The remaining hours can be devoted to activities such as thesis advising, class preparation, graduate studies, consultancy, industry immersion, research projects, social engagement, and other approved activities. For faculty members with administrative deloading, an equivalent of seven (7) hours of residency is required for every three (3)-unit deloading.

A full-time academic teaching faculty shall devote at least twenty-five (25) hours a week within the University, including time for community building activities. The faculty must be reachable during the regular office hours (8 am to 5 pm) from Monday to Friday. If he/she anticipates that he/she will be in a location that is hard to reach, he/she must inform the department chair beforehand.

Faculty members are required to submit the residency form indicating the distribution of their weekly forty-hour workload for approval.

In addition, they are expected to report for duty during the week preceding the first school day of the academic year, for as many days as required but not exceeding five (5) working days.

2.2 The regular teaching load of full-time academic teaching faculty is twelve (12) units every trimester preferably spread throughout the week.

For COL, regular teaching load of full-time academic teaching faculty is fourteen (14) units every semester, preferably spread throughout the week.

2.2.1 Full-time academic teaching faculty members with the rank of Associate Professor and up are required to teach in both undergraduate and graduate courses every academic year.

2.2.2 Teaching assignments are prepared by the Department Chair/ Vice Chair and/or Graduate School Coordinator in consultation with the faculty member concerned and in accordance with the existing policies on teaching assignments and loads. The tentative load shall be given two (2) weeks before the termination of the preceding trimester to afford the faculty members time for preparation. Loads are deemed final unless disapproved by the Dean. In cases of non-agreement between the Department Chair and the Dean, the Vice Chancellor for Academics mediates and renders a decision, which is final and not subject to appeal.

2.3 The load of faculty members who teach laboratory, drafting, and other similar subjects shall be based on two (2) units for every three (3) hours of class schedule.

2.4 The teaching load of full-time academic teaching faculty members may be reduced by the Vice Chancellor for Academics for the following reasons:

2.4.1 A research project duly approved by the College Research Council or commissioned by the University, upon the recommendation of the Dean and in consultation with the Department Chair.
2.4.2 Other reasons which the Vice Chancellor for Academics, in consultation with the Dean and the Department Chair, may deem worthy.

2.5 Administrative loads may be given to full-time academic teaching faculty on probation only under very meritorious cases and it should not in any way impede their compliance with their teaching duties, publication, research and pursuit of advanced degrees and training that are required for their permanency.

Administrative loads and assignments to become representatives of departments in policy-making bodies shall not be given to part-time faculty, except only as members of committee

For COL, in extremely meritorious cases, the Dean may approve additional units of overload for an administrator, but in no case may the total load exceed eighteen (18) units.

2.6 To give faculty members more time for class preparations and for research and study, load assignments shall be limited to three (3) preparations. Laboratory classes constitute one (1) preparation in departments where such classes are considered separate from the lecture subject.

Any load in excess of three (3) class preparations requires consultation between the Department Chair and the faculty member concerned and the decision is subject to the approval of the Dean.

2.6.1 Generally, assigning an additional preparation in excess of three (3) preparations is discouraged. In case a fourth preparation cannot be avoided, the faculty assigned must be willing to accept the load, and the Chair justifies the fourth preparation in writing addressed to the Vice Chancellor for Academics. The following criteria will apply:

2.6.1.1 the faculty member has taught at least three (3) of the four (4) subjects in the regular load;

2.6.1.2 the additional class preparation is related to the faculty member’s field of specialization;

2.6.1.3 the fourth preparation is a regular class and the faculty is a senior or experienced faculty

2.6.2 Faculty members assigned loads in excess of the limit for class preparations shall be given a differential pay amounting to one-third (1/3) of the hourly overload pay computed for the duration of the service rendered.

If the fourth preparation is a special graduate class, the premium is a flat rate unless the faculty serves for less than a term in which case the premium shall be computed proportionately to the duration of the service.

As a rule, a fifth preparation is not allowed. However, in extremely meritorious or emergency cases, this may be allowed upon approval of the Vice Chancellor for Academics, e.g., substitution due to faculty leaving in the middle of the term and there is a need to immediately assign a substitute. A premium like the fourth preparation premium will be given.

2.6.1 In identifying the class for which the premium should be paid for additional class preparation, the Chair should single out the subject least taught by the faculty member.

Equivalent courses needing only one preparation should be identified and treated as such by the departments concerned.

2.7 Activities of Faculty Outside the University

2.7.1 Outside activities that may be considered part of the residency hours include the following:

2.7.1.1 limited practice of a profession (including teaching under a consortium program or in universities with which De La Salle University has a memorandum of agreement) and industry immersion;

2.7.1.2 management of discipline-related private enterprise, including research-based start-ups;

2.7.1.3 approved outside consultancy; Upon approval, the faculty must submit a copy of the consultancy contract to the Office of the Chancellor;

2.7.1.4 special detail to government or to non-governmental institutions (educational and non-educational) with which the University has a memorandum of agreement;

2.7.1.5 research and other projects under the auspices of other institutions and discipline-related research done for private business enterprises; and/or

2.7.1.6 social engagement.

These activities require prior authorization from the Chancellor upon endorsement by the Dean and the head of the unit concerned.

Teaching in another institution, including other institutions within De La Salle Philippines, is not allowed unless with official permission from the Chancellor.

Teaching of review classes may be allowed provided the classes are not in the areas where the University offers review classes. Approval/permission of the Chancellor for this purpose shall be applied for, through proper channels.

2.7.2 Outside consultancy, special detail to government and off-campus research shall form part of the regular workload subject to approval of the Chancellor based on the following:
2.7.2.1 Effective teaching performance (ITEO rating of at least 4.0) and compliance with all administrative regulations of the University.

2.7.2.2 The faculty member retains the regular teaching load, and provides the required number of student consultation hours.

2.7.2.3 The activities shall not exceed ten (10) hours of the regular work schedule of forty (40) hours required of all full-time academic teaching faculty members.

2.7.2.4 The activities are not contrary to the interests of the University.

2.7.2.5 The faculty member shall not carry any overload.

2.8 Graduate Studies

Graduate studies credited for residency shall be equivalent to two (2) times the number of units enrolled in, provided the total does not exceed twelve (12) hours, of which three (3) hours must be in residence. Faculty members writing their thesis/dissertation shall be granted a reduction in teaching and workload based on the provisions on faculty development.

Anyone carrying a graduate study load of six (6) units or more will not be allowed to do consultancy or carry an overload.

2.9 Based on need, the University may assign overload to a full-time academic teaching faculty member taking into consideration the following factors:

2.9.1 Evidence of effective teaching performance

2.9.2 Compliance with school regulations and policies on attendance, submission of grades, course syllabi, and other requirements related to teaching.

2.9.3 Length of service at De La Salle University.

The overload should not conflict with other duties (i.e., administrative assignment, membership in Department, College, University committees).

2.10 As a rule, faculty may not have more than four (4) units of overload and two special classes. Guidelines for special classes are specified in the Department Operations Manual.

2.11 Remuneration for teaching overload is one and one-tenth (1 and 1/10) times the hourly overload rates. Overload pay rates are based on faculty rank.

2.12 Graduate courses are given one and one-sixth (1 1/6) times as much credit as that of undergraduate courses provided the number of students meets the minimum class size. If the minimum class size is not met, the graduate course shall be considered a special class.
A three (3)-unit graduate class with one student less than the minimum size shall be given a two (2)-unit credit on the following conditions:

a. the subject is on track;
b. the subject is offered once in an academic year;
c. all students have paid their fees;
d. the class will meet regularly; venue and schedule will be included in the plantilla update form; and

e. no premium as graduate class will be given.

Assignment of graduate courses shall be subject to rules existing in the different colleges.

2.13 In meritorious cases, the load of full-time academic teaching faculty members may be reduced by one-half (1/2) i.e., the faculty member goes on half load, subject to the approval of the Chancellor. Reduction of full-time load will involve a corresponding adjustment in matters pertaining to pay, length of service and benefits.

2.14 Full-time academic teaching faculty members are paid on the 10th and 25th of every month.
B. FULL-TIME ACADEMIC FACULTY RANKS

General Considerations

Promotion is the upward movement of a permanent faculty member.

Reclassification is the upward movement of a non-permanent faculty member.

As a rule, faculty members are eligible to promotion/reclassification only if they have served at least one (1) year in their present rank.

Rank Promotion/Reclassification is the change in rank of a faculty member. There are two (2) ways of obtaining rank promotion/reclassification:

a. upon obtaining the appropriate graduate degree when all requirements for entry into a rank are met and the degree merely completes the entry requirements. In such case, the one-year residency requirement is waived.

b. upon completion of the research output requirements when all other requirements for entry into a rank have been met and the publication merely completes the entry requisites.

Step Promotion/Reclassification is the upward movement of a faculty member within a rank upon meeting all requirements. A faculty may be promoted/reclassified only after completion of at least one (1) year residency in the current rank.

Faculty members can be promoted/reclassified several steps for as long as all requirements for each step are met.

While a year of satisfactory service is required for each step, the counting of years shall not necessarily start from the last promotion but shall include unused residency from previous promotions if they have at least a 4.0 ITEO evaluation, which is a weighted average of student, peer and chair evaluation.

E. PROBATION

For new full-time faculty members, probation serves both as an acculturation period and as an opportunity for assessment by his/her students, peers, and administrative superiors. The former function is developmental in nature; probationary faculty members should be given ample opportunity and an enabling environment to develop into full-fledged Lasallian educators and scholars. As such, utmost priority is given to developing the faculty member’s career with respect to the core functions of teaching, research, and social engagement.

1. Definition of Probation

A probationary faculty member is one who has been appointed for full-time work and on whom permanent status has not yet been conferred by the University.

2. Duration of Probation

The initial period of appointment for full-time faculty is one (1) trimester. Unless the faculty member is informed in writing of non-renewal thirty (30) days before the start of the next term, the appointment is automatically extended up to the end of the third (3rd) trimester of service. Subsequent renewals will be on an annual basis.

The maximum probationary period is nine (9) consecutive trimesters. However, probationary faculty members who have complied with the requirements for permanency may be made permanent after three (3) consecutive trimesters of probation. Prior service of probationary faculty members who have returned from graduate studies/special training duly approved by the University may be considered part of the probationary period and may therefore be employed to abbreviate the probationary period.

3. Procedure for Renewal

3.1 Before the end of the year of where faculty is under probation, the head of the Department/Unit, in consultation with the members of the Department/
Unit, shall review the performance of the faculty member concerned. The head of the Department/Unit makes a recommendation to the Renewal Board.

4.4 Compliance with school regulations and administrative requirements for attendance and punctuality, and observance of deadlines for submission of grades, as evidenced by official records.

4.5 Research capability as demonstrated by scholarly outputs/publications (Refer to Appendix A Implementing Guidelines, page 104).

4.6 Active involvement in social engagement activities.

4.7 Good health as attested to by the medical officer/testing agency designated by DLSU.

The criteria for renewal in this Manual are minimum requirements. A department may come up with higher standards. These standards should be approved by the department, the Council of Chairs, and the Academics Council, and should be confirmed by the Technical Panel through the Vice Chancellor for Academics.

Any proposal for additional standards should be endorsed by the Executive Board of AFED who shall ensure that such proposal is a product of a consensus among the members of the concerned department or unit. The additional requirement should be disclosed to the faculty at the start of his/her probation. Additional requirements apply only when communicated at the start of the first year of probation. Such requirements must be explicitly stated. Failure to do so would prevent any future Renewal Board to invoke such additional requirement.

5. Effectivity/Non-Renewal of Contract

5.1 A faculty member on probation should:

5.1.1 consider the period of his/her employment as strictly temporary, the said period to end on the expiry date of the contract, in which case the employer-employee relationship shall automatically be considered terminated; and

5.1.2 finish the term of his/her appointment, unless the University decides otherwise, in which case the University pays him/her all the emoluments called for under his/her contract. If, however, the termination before expiry is for cause, the emoluments corresponding to the unserved portion of the contract shall not be paid.

5.2 A faculty member on probation will be notified of non-renewal of his/her contract at least thirty (30) days before the expiration of his/her current contract.

5.3 In case of non-renewal, the faculty can file a motion for reconsideration or an appeal. (See Appendix E, page 133).

Faculty members cannot request for a deferment of leave. Request for deferment can only be made by the administration (VCA, Dean, or Chair), with the consent of the faculty member concerned.

The required continuous service for the subsequent leave shall be counted from the actual date of return.

In cases where a service leave applied for in writing is deferred due to exigencies of service, years of continuous service for the next service leave will include the period of deferment.

\(^4\) Delivery shall include childbirth or any miscarriage
The Office of the VCA will notify faculty members who are eligible for service leave.

Faculty members who go on service leave should render at least one (1) trimester of service upon their return. However, this does not apply if the service leave coincides with the last term of service of the faculty before retirement.

Service Leave cannot be deferred for more than three (3) years; otherwise, it becomes a Sabbatical Leave.

Service leave cannot be availed on a staggered basis, unless the faculty member’s services are urgently needed by the University and the faculty gives his/her consent.

The faculty shall submit, within two (2) weeks upon return from sabbatical leave, a report listing down the activities done during his/her leave, which may not necessarily match the intended activities he/she earlier stated in the letter of intent.

The sabbatical leave covers a period of one (1) year and merits full pay. The faculty must render at least one (1) year of service upon his/her return. However, this does not apply if the sabbatical leave coincides with the last term of service of the faculty before retirement.

Sabbatical leave cannot be availed on a staggered basis, unless the faculty member’s services are urgently needed by the University and the faculty gives his/her consent.

The required continuous service for the subsequent leave shall be counted from the date of return. In cases where the sabbatical leave applied for in writing is deferred due to scheduling difficulties, years of continuous service for the next leave shall include the period of deferment.

8.3.1 Endorsed or Sponsored by the University

8.3.1.1 Application for study leave shall be governed by the policies and guidelines of the Faculty Development Program or the memorandum of agreement governing the scholarship. The duration of the leave will depend on the requirements of the degree/research program and the availability of such program in the Philippines. For a master’s program, this leave should not exceed two (2) years; for a doctoral program, four (4) years. However, this leave may be granted a one-year extension subject to the provisions of the Faculty Development Program.

8.3.1.2 For permanent faculty members, the period of study leave shall be credited towards years of continuous service, including years of service for purposes of promotion, service leave, sabbatical leave, research incentive, longevity, and retirement benefits, unless specified otherwise in a contract or agreement.

Probationary faculty members who went on study leave, endorsed, or sponsored by the University, will resume their probationary status when they return. Part time service prior to the study/training leave may also be considered.

8.3.2 Study and/or Research Work for Personal Reasons

A permanent faculty member may apply for this leave for reasons of professional growth. This leave has a normal duration of one (1) year subject to extension and merits no pay. This leave will disrupt continuity of service. The Chancellor has the discretion to extend this leave.

A permanent faculty may go on a postdoctoral fellowship abroad or research leave subject to the provisions of the Faculty Development Program. The duration of the research leave shall be credited towards years of continuous service, including years of service for purposes of promotion, service leave, sabbatical leave, research incentive and longevity benefit.

8.5 Business or Practice of Profession

A permanent faculty member who has served for five (5) academic years may apply for this leave for reasons of personal business, practice of profession, or professional growth. Leaves in this category are for a maximum period of three consecutive terms, are non-renewable, and are without pay. Such leaves will disrupt continuity of service. The faculty member may re-apply for this leave after every three (3) years of continuous service.

8.6 Vacation or Rest

A permanent faculty member may apply for a vacation leave for reasons of well-being and mental health for a duration of one (1) term. The leave may be extended for a maximum of two (2) more terms, upon certification or clearance of the University Physician, or University Counselor or mental health professional. This should not disrupt the continuity of service.

However, for vacation or recreational reasons, the faculty would lose residency accumulated and earned towards sabbatical or service leave.

This leave is without pay.
8.7 Sick Leave

8.7.1 Short Term Sick Leave

8.7.1.1 A full-time permanent faculty member is entitled to a short-term sick leave which should not exceed fifteen (15) days per academic year.

8.7.1.3 Faculty who avails of this leave will have to present a medical certificate validated by the University physician upon return; failure to do so will mean that the payment for the substitute/s shall be charged to the faculty.

8.7.1.4 Faculty who has exhausted the number of absences allotted for sick leave shall pay for the substitute for the period beyond fifteen (15) days.

8.7.2 Prolonged Sick Leave

A full-time permanent faculty member who is confined in a hospital, or physically unable to leave the house, or sick as certified by a medical doctor and confirmed by the University physician on a visit and is therefore unable to teach/work for more than fifteen (15) days, is entitled to full basic salary of up to one (1) month. During the second and third months of a prolonged sickness, the difference between a faculty member’s regular basic salary and that of the substitute’s overload/part-time rate will be paid to the faculty member. Should the substitute’s pay exceed that of the faculty, the differential would be shouldered by the University.

Full-time faculty diagnosed with and/or suffering from mental health conditions may avail of a prolonged sick leave.

Beginning with the fourth month, he/she shall be considered automatically on leave without pay until he/she fully recovers. Any sick leave beyond three (3) months will not be credited towards years of service (service/sabbatical leave) but will not disrupt continuity of service in relation to the earning of years towards service or sabbatical leaves.

At the end of any prolonged sick leave, a faculty member should present a certification given and/or endorsed by the University physician attesting to his/her full recovery.

The benefit is non-cumulative and may be enjoyed only once during an academic year.

A probationary faculty member who has served the University for at least one (1) year and who contracts a prolonged illness as defined above, shall be entitled to full pay for one (1) calendar month.
Inability to return to service after said period shall be a cause for an immediate review of his/her contract by the Permanency/Service Review Board.

8.8 Emergency Leave

Emergency leave with pay for not more than five (5) working days shall be granted to any member of the faculty directly affected by such contingencies as:

– death, or serious accident/illness of a member of the immediate family (including parents, only for this purpose). Serious illness is to be determined by a physician; and – natural and man-made calamities such as fire, earthquake, lahar flows and other consequences of volcanic eruptions and the like.

For permanent faculty members, such leave may, in exceptional and feasible cases, be extended to one (1) term. Although such extension shall merit no pay, and will not be credited towards years of service for service/sabbatical leave, promotion, longevity, and retirement purposes, it will not constitute a disruption in the continuity of service in relation to the earning of years towards service/sabbatical leave.

8.9 Military Service Leave

Military service leave shall be granted to members of the faculty who may be called in accordance with the National Defense Act or any other law for trainee instruction, or for regular active-duty training in any recognized branch of the Philippine Armed Forces.

This leave should not disrupt the continuity of service in relation to the earning of years towards service/sabbatical leave.

8.10 Secondment or Special Detail Leave

Secondment or special detail to a De La Salle Philippines school or to any government agency is for one (1) calendar year, subject to the approval of the Chancellor. This may be renewed on a yearly basis.

This leave merits no pay but does not disrupt continuity of service and the scholarship of children, and is counted for promotion, longevity, and retirement purposes and service and sabbatical leaves. The healthcare insurance may also be continued if the member pays for the annual premium.

8.11 Parental leave

Parental leave of four (4) working days every year shall be granted to any married parent who has rendered at least one (1) year of service.

Solo parents, as defined by R.A. 8972 or the Solo Parents’ Welfare Act of 2000, who have rendered at least one (1) year of service shall be granted a total of seven (7) working days of parental leave every year.
Parental leave shall be non-cumulative and non-commutative. The application for leave shall be filed at least one (1) day before the intended date of absence.

8.12. Technology Commercialization Leave*

The Technology Commercialization Leave allows eligible faculty members to spend time away from their regular duties at the University to focus more intently on the commercialization of University-Owned Intellectual Property (IP) through a new business venture. It serves to encourage research-based entrepreneurship and enhance the successful transfer of University-Owned IP and/or knowledge to society.

A permanent full-time academic faculty member may apply for a TCL under the following conditions:

1. he/she desires to participate in a new business venture;
2. De La Salle University has assigned, licensed, transferred, or sold University-Owned IP to the new business venture.

Applications for TCL are endorsed by the Unit Head or Department Chair to the Knowledge and Technology Transfer Committee (KTTC), which evaluates the request and makes a recommendation to the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Academics (OVCA). The OVCA makes the final decision on whether to grant a TCL request.

A TCL shall last for a period of up to one (1) year and is renewable for at most another one (1) year. A request for a TCL must be submitted at least one (1) term before the TCL is scheduled to begin. A TCL shall be without pay. The duration of TCL will be counted towards retirement but shall not be credited towards years of service for purposes of service leave, sabbatical leave, research incentive and longevity benefit.

8.13. General Considerations on Leave of Absence

8.13.1 For leaves other than those mentioned above, the faculty should write to the VCA through channels explaining the circumstances.

8.13.2 Any leave of absence should be taken to coincide with the academic calendar.

8.13.3 A faculty member shall not secure employment elsewhere while on leave, except leaves under Business or Practice of Profession (Refer to Leaves, page 42).

8.13.4 Permanent faculty members granted a leave of absence are assured of retaining their faculty rank, though not necessarily their appointive position in the University. They have the option to continue payment of the contributions to SSS, Pag-IBIG and Philhealth but they will also have to pay the University’s share.

*Leaves of absence that allow researcher-employees to undertake IP commercialization, especially of IP generated from government-funded research, are provided in Article VI, Sec. 12 of Republic Act 10055, or the Philippine Technology Transfer Act of 2009
8.13.5 A faculty member may avail of a leave of absence under the mentioned stipulations. The type and conditions of a leave are determined by the head of the unit and the faculty member concerned. The leave takes effect after it is approved in writing by the Vice Chancellor for Academics upon the recommendation of the Dean/Head of the unit. Should the Vice Chancellor for Academics disapprove the leave, the faculty member may appeal the case to the Chancellor.

8.13.6 As part of his/her contract, a faculty member who is on an approved leave of absence is expected to render corresponding years of service upon his/her return. If he/she fails to render such service, he/she shall be asked to repay all salaries and benefits received during such leave. In this case, the University may withhold any or all benefits accruing to the faculty member concerned.

8.13.7 A faculty member who goes on absence without leave (AWOL) will be subject to a Service Review by the Vice Chancellor for Academics for the first occurrence and the Service Review Board for the subsequent occurrences.

8.13.8 A faculty member who is leaving for abroad should apply for the intended leave to the Vice Chancellor for Academics through the Dean and Department Chair thirty (30) days before the effectivity of said leave. A formal reply from the Vice Chancellor for Academics should be furnished within seven (7) working days, excluding Saturdays, upon receipt of application. The requirement of thirty (30) days' notice will not apply for sick leave, emergency leave, and attendance to conferences and other official meetings abroad. If the VCA does not reply within the prescribed period, the request for the intended leave is deemed approved.

8.13.9 Faculty members on approved leave of absence should write the Vice Chancellor for Academics through the Dean, and Department Chair forty-five (45) calendar days before the end of their leave in case they plan to extend their leave. Faculty members who do not report to work on the first working day after their leave are considered on AWOL.

8.14 Payment of Substitute

8.14.1 For absences of less than one week for faculty members who attend conferences, the University will pay for the substitute. This can only be availed once a year.

8.14.2 For absences of less than one week for reasons other than attendance in conferences, the faculty is required to hold makeup classes.

8.14.3 For absences of more than one week but less than fourteen working days due to participation in conferences, the faculty is required to hold makeup classes for the first week of absence. For the second week of absence, the pay of the substitute will be charged against the salary of the faculty. No return service component shall be applied.
8.14.4 For faculty members and administrators who are sent to represent the University, the University shall pay the substitute.

9. Retirement Benefits

9.1. The University retirement benefits consist of the following plans:

<tr>
<th>University’s Contributions</th>
<th>Faculty</th>
<th>Reference Numbers of Notes Below</th>

</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>%</td>

<tr>
<td>Plan C</td>

<tr>
<td>Plan D</td>

</tbody>

Faculty members are entitled to Plan A in accordance with the policies of the CEAP Retirement Plan. (See Appendix J CEAP Retirement Plan, page 147).

Faculty members are entitled to Plan B for which they contribute two percent (2%) of their monthly basic salary inclusive of the contribution to Pag-IBIG. The University commits itself to matching the faculty member’s contribution (2% of basic monthly salary minus the contribution to Pag-IBIG). The total University contributions go to a retirement fund governed by policies like those of the old CEAP Retirement Plan effective prior to October 1989.

Plan C applies to faculty members who are not enjoying tuition waivers for their children. The total contribution will be added to the University’s Retirement Fund. Although part of the University’s Retirement Plan, this contribution will be credited to the faculty member concerned; hence, he/she may withdraw this contribution, together with all interest, when he/she leaves the University.

When a faculty member enjoying tuition waiver benefit stops availing of this benefit, he/she is automatically entitled to Plan C.

Full-time faculty members who have opted for Plan B may opt to participate in Plan D whereby they commit themselves to saving two percent (2%) of their basic salary while the University matches this with a three percent (3%) contribution. The total contribution will be added to the University’s additional Retirement Fund Plan and will also be governed by rules like those of the old CEAP Retirement Fund effective prior to October 1989.

Plans A and C are automatically included in the retirement plan of full-time faculty. Those who wish to avail of Plans B and D may apply for their inclusion.

Addendum regarding the old CEAP Retirement Plan:

Plans B, C, and D will follow the old CEAP provisions effective prior to October 1989 and other policies that may be stipulated by the Retirement Board.
9.2 For the purpose of computing retirement benefits, a faculty member who has served the University for at least thirty (30) years shall be deemed promoted two (2) full steps upon retirement. A faculty member who has served the University at least 20 years but less than 30 years shall be deemed promoted one (1) full step.

9.3 Retirement benefit shall be computed based on twenty-eight (28) days effective AY 2012-2013.

9.4 Retirement benefits due to the retiring faculty member will be given to him/her upon retirement.

9.5 Privileges of Retired Faculty Members

9.5.1 They have permanent employee identification cards.

9.5.2 They may avail of the services of the University clinic, counseling, library (room use only), gymnasium/sports, and computer facilities (email account only), and discounts for purchases at the bookstore and the canteens.

9.5.3 They receive, upon request, publications of the University, which are furnished to the faculty generally.

9.5.4 They are invited to University activities (colloquia, concerts, programs, sports fests, etc.) and receive discounts on tickets where applicable.

10. Faculty Development Benefits

10.1 Tuition discount for graduate studies and other grants are provided under the Faculty Development Program of the University.

The Committee shall formulate the general guidelines for faculty development and review the guidelines of the College Faculty Development Committees.

10.3 The College Faculty Development Committee, using the general guidelines as basis, formulates specific guidelines for each College. This Committee is composed of the Dean as presiding officer, Department representatives, and an AFED Representative.

10.4 All policies enunciated and benefits decided on by the University Faculty Development Committee shall be an integral part of the Faculty Manual.

11. Research Incentive

11.1 Adjunct Professors and permanent faculty members with the rank of at least Assistant Professor who have served for five (5) cumulative years will receive a research incentive equal to one hundred percent (100%) of their monthly salary for any paper or creative work in line with one's area of specialization, appearing in a publication with an ISBN or an ISSN within the last two (2) academic years. The research incentive shall be equivalent to only seventy-five percent (75%) of the monthly salary for publishable research completed within the last two (2) academic years, or for a research-based paper delivered in a public forum.

11.2 Professorial and academic chair holders also qualify for the benefit by submitting a paper over and above that required by the chair they hold.

11.3 Research papers or creative works should be endorsed by the Department Chair to the College Research Committee (CRC). The CRC deliberates on them and submits the qualified papers to the Vice Chancellor for Research and Innovation for approval of the incentive award.

11.4 For contracted projects, there should be a paper over and above the requirements of the project.

11.5 Joint research/papers shall be treated as single ones, with the members of the research team deciding among themselves who shall be the recipient of the incentive and its concomitant benefits.

12. Disability Benefits

In addition to the benefits for long term sickness and total permanent disability in accordance with the SSS Law, the following benefits are given subject to qualifications herein stated:

Permanent faculty members with at least three (3) years of service who are permanently disabled will receive a lump sum consisting of the latest monthly salary times the number of years of service, provided the amount of disability benefits shall not be less than PhP50,000, nor more than PhP300,000, and provided the faculty member at the time of disability is not eligible for early retirement benefits under the CEAP Plan. If he/she is so entitled, the faculty member is entitled to whichever amount is higher.

13. Tuition Waiver Benefits for those hired permanent before 1987

If a faculty member has rendered at least ten (10) years of continuous employment, he/she is entitled to tuition waiver benefits for one (1) child for either grade school or high school and one (1) child for college. These students are entitled to the following tuition fee discounts:

- 50% for elementary school
- 75% for high school
- 100% for college

This is a guaranteed slot that can be availed only in DLSU Laguna Campus for Basic Education (elementary and high school) and only in DLSU (Manila & Laguna campuses) for college.

The faculty member is entitled to the University’s Retirement Plan C before availing of the tuition fee waiver. After the child has availed of this, Retirement Plan C will be resumed.
For faculty members hired or made permanent starting AY 2015-2016:

A faculty member is entitled to the University’s Retirement Plan C if he/she does not avail of the tuition fee waiver. Should the faculty member avail of the tuition fee waiver, Retirement Plan C will not be resumed even after the child has graduated from college.

A retired faculty member who has served the University for at least twenty (20) years is entitled to a 100% tuition waiver for two (2) children for a regular collegiate program in the University.

A retired faculty member who was entitled to a tuition waiver shall continue to enjoy the benefit even after death.

14. Death Benefits

When a full-time academic faculty member who is a member of the AFED dies, members of AFED will contribute the equivalent of one (1) hour overload or part-time pay. The University will give an amount equivalent to one-and-a-half (1.5) times the total contribution of the faculty.

A permanent faculty member who reaches retirement age and who has been a member of the AFED for fifteen (15) years may continue membership in the AFED and will continue to qualify for the death benefits stated above.

Retired faculty members who would like to avail of the lifetime membership should file their application with the AFED within one year after their retirement.

A faculty member who is entitled to retirement benefits at the time of his/her death shall be granted both retirement and death benefits.

Part-time academic faculty members are those contracted on a trimestral basis to teach the number of hours assigned, based on the needs of the Department.

A. WORKING CONDITIONS

1. The usual load for part-time academic faculty is six (6) units. This load may be increased if the faculty member meets the following criteria:

2.3 Timing of filing – a case can be filed against a part-time faculty member only when such faculty member has a teaching load during a given term or is active. However, such cases can include those pertaining to acts committed in previous semesters and are still within the period for which such cases can be validly filed.

2.4 Presumption of innocence in relation to the assignment of teaching load – A part-time faculty with a pending case may still be given load by the Department.

2.5 Interpretation of penalties for part-time faculty members

2.5.1 A penalty of suspension would mean that the said faculty member may not be given a load during the period equivalent to the suspension, without prejudice to future rehiring by the University.

F. DISCONTINUANCE OF SERVICE FOR PART-TIME FACULTY

1. There are two types of discontinuance of service of a part-time faculty – voluntary and involuntary.

1.1 Involuntary discontinuance of service – this applies to when the discontinuance of service is as a penalty.

member who disagrees with the Service Review Board on its decision shall have the right to appeal to the Arbitration Board (Refer to Appendix I Department of Labor and Employment (DOLE) Provisions for Voluntary Arbitration in Private Educational Institutions, page 146), whose decision shall be final.

1.2 Voluntary Discontinuance of Service for Part-Time Faculty

1.2.1 A part-time faculty member shall not discontinue his/her service in the University during the middle of the term.

1.2.2 Former part-time faculty members who had voluntarily discontinued their services may be rehired subject to the prevailing conditions of the current Faculty Manual.

1.2.3 The University reserves the right to hold part-time faculty members who voluntarily discontinue their services to applicable terms and obligations in relations to contracts which they may have entered with the University.

1.2.4 Furthermore, the University also reserves the right to hold in abeyance the voluntary discontinuance of service in situations where a particular faculty member has a pending grievance case. A pending grievance case is defined as one which has already been formally filed in written form to the appropriate head of office, as defined in Appendix G.

G. BENEFITS

1. Benefits Mandated by Law. Members of the faculty are covered by all benefits specifically mandated by Philippine laws.

2. Service Benefits

If a part-time teaching faculty has been with the University for at least thirty (30) trimesters and has already taught at least two hundred seventy (270) units, he/she will receive a service pay equivalent to six percent (6%) of his/her service pay. A continuous break of more than nine (9) trimesters requires a new counting of terms/units of service.

A part-time faculty who has served as a full-time faculty shall have his/her prior service counted unless he/she:

2.1 has retired from full time service and has received all the mandated benefits due a retired faculty;

2.2 has resigned from full-time service and has withdrawn all benefits due a resigned faculty, such as separation pay and CEAP contributions; or

2.3 is a faculty who started to teach part-time more than a year after resigning as full-time faculty member from DLSU

3. Retirement Benefits

Part-time faculty members may participate in the following retirement plans:
3.1 Plan A, in accordance with the policies of CEAP.

3.2 A part-time faculty member is entitled to Plan B, for which he/she contributes two percent (2%) of his/her monthly salary, inclusive of his/her contribution to Pag-IBIG. The University commits itself to matching the faculty member’s contribution (i.e., 2% of basic monthly salary minus the contribution to Pag-IBIG). The total contributions go to a retirement fund governed by policies like those of the old CEAP Retirement Plan effective prior to October 1989.

3.3 Plan C applies to faculty members who are not enjoying tuition waivers for their children. The total contribution of four percent (4%) of a part-timer’s monthly salary will be added to the University’s Retirement Fund. This contribution, although part of the University’s Retirement Fund, will be credited to the faculty member concerned; hence, he/she may withdraw this contribution, together with all interest, when he/she leaves the University.

3.4 Retirement benefits due the retiring part-time faculty member will be given upon retirement.

4. DOLE Service Incentive Leave

Part-Time Faculty are eligible for five (5) days service incentive leave that will be monetized. The amount should be pegged with the average load for the year. It shall be computed based on the average number of units (over 3 terms for the year) multiplied by the latest per unit rate of the faculty. The monetization is at the end of the academic year.

5. Faculty Development Benefits

Tuition discount for graduate studies and other grants are provided under the Faculty Development Program of the University.

6. Death Benefits

When a part-time teaching faculty member who is also a member of the AFED passes away, members of the Association will contribute the equivalent of one-hour overload or part-time pay.

7. Parking Privileges

Parking spaces are designated for administrators (Associate Deans up), Full Professors, and University Fellows. Parking in free slots on campus (not necessarily in the Leveriza area) is extended to members of the AFED, subject to availability, following rules and procedures in determining allocation, which may be reviewed at the start of the academic year.
ACADEMIC SERVICE FACULTY

A. EMPLOYMENT NORMS AND CONDITIONS

1. General Classification by Unit Assignment

Academic Service Faculty (ASF), the equivalent of the academic non-teaching personnel as defined by BP 232, are faculty members who are primarily engaged by the University for the practice of their profession directly supportive of teaching or in support of academic programs. They are expected to participate in the University’s pursuance of its mission by fully concentrating on their specific inter-related functions as stated in their job descriptions provided by the University unit to which they are assigned. Among the University units which require the services of these faculty members are the following:

Engineering and Science
Office of the Counseling and Career Services
Libraries
Other units that perform academic services

2. Classification by Employment Status

Employment status refers to the nature of an ASF member’s appointment, which may be Probationary, or Permanent.

2.1 A Probationary ASF member is one who has been appointed for full-time work and on whom permanent status has not yet been conferred. An ASF member on probation will be notified of the non-renewal of his/her contract at least thirty (30) days before the expiration of his/her current contract.

2.1.1 Duration of Probation

The initial period of appointment of a Probationary ASF member is one (1) trimester. Unless the ASF is informed of non-renewal thirty (30) days before the start of the next term, the appointment is automatically extended up to the end of the third (3rd) trimester of service. Subsequent renewals will be on an annual basis.

The maximum probationary period is nine (9) consecutive trimesters. However, Probationary ASFs who have complied with the requirements for permanency may be made permanent after three (3) consecutive trimesters of probation. Prior service of Probationary ASF members who have returned from study leaves may be considered part of the probationary period, and they may therefore be employed to abbreviate the probationary period.

2.1.2 Effectivity/Non-renewal of Contract

A Probationary ASF is expected to:

2.1.2.1 consider the period of his/her employment as strictly temporary, the said period to end on the expiry date of the contract, in which case the employer-employee relationship shall automatically be considered terminated; and

2.1.2.2 finish the term of his/her appointment, unless the University decides otherwise, in which case the University pays him/her all the emoluments called for under his/her contract. If, however, the termination before the expiry date is for cause, the emoluments corresponding to the unserved portion of the contract shall not be paid.

2.2 A Permanent ASF member is one who has met the criteria for permanency as confirmed by the Permanency Board, and with whom the Chancellor of the University has signed a contract for permanency. The service of a permanent ASF member may be terminated only for just cause and after due process.

3. Working Conditions

In addition to the general functions of ASF members as stated in the job descriptions provided by the respective University units to which they are assigned, they:

3.1 Shall devote forty (40) hours of professional service a week to the University during each of the three (3) trimesters of the school year.

3.2 Render service between trimesters to ensure continuity of operations. They do not render service on non-working holidays and during the Christmas break.

3.3 Enjoy a vacation leave every year depending on the number of years of continuous service, upon arrangement with their immediate supervisor who endorses it to the Dean/Director for the eventual approval of the Vice Chancellor for Academics. Their vacation leave entitlement is specified under Benefits.

3.4 May be assigned to administrative positions by the University as part of their forty (40) hours of professional service a week for which they shall be given honoraria. The amount of honorarium shall be based on: (1) the size of the unit/department; (2) the number of programs/projects undertaken; (3) the number of persons under supervision; (4) the nature of task or responsibility; and (5) the office’s/unit’s significant contribution to the university.

3.5 May teach at De La Salle University a maximum of one (1) three-unit course per term as part of their professional growth, subject to the approval of the unit head concerned. Eight hours shall be deducted from the forty-hours-a-week schedule and shall NOT merit extra compensation.

3.6 May engage in consultancies approved/endorsed/sponsored by the University. They may also engage in teaching within the University’s consortium program with the approval of the Chancellor, provided:

3.6.1 They are permanent ASF;

3.6.2 They have received an effective performance evaluation;
3.6.3 These outside activities have the approval of the head of the unit and the Dean/Director concerned, and do not exceed eight (8) hours per week of the regular work schedule; and

3.6.4 They are not currently enjoying other reductions in working hours.

3.7 Shall be given time off for training, seminars, or workshops upon the approval of the Vice Chancellor for Academics in consultation with the Associate Vice Chancellor concerned or his/her equivalent and/or head of the unit concerned. The University shall secure every affordable opportunity to promote the academic and professional growth of the Academic Service Faculty by providing time, funds, and other means of support to enable them to pursue their continuing education and training in their respective fields or profession, subject to the provisions in the Faculty Development Program and the requirements of the effective delivery of services. Reduction in working hours for masteral studies shall be equivalent to one and one-half (1.5) times the number of units enrolled in, provided the total number does not exceed nine (9) hours.

6. The ASF member concerned is informed by the immediate superior of the decision of the Board within two (2) working days from the time the decision was made.

7. In special cases, if the Service Extension Board does not recommend the extension of the full-time service of an ASF member beyond sixty (60) years of age, the Vice Chancellor for Academics may recommend a non-renewable extension of not more than two (2) years.

ASF members who qualified for tuition waiver benefit as of May 26, 1987, continue to qualify, and may enjoy such benefit for their children in the future. In case of deferment, the remaining unused vacation leaves shall be added to the following academic year’s vacation leave. The schedule of availment shall be subject to the approval of the Unit Head. In no case may the administration request for two (2) successive deferments.

6.10.2 If the ASF member is hired in the middle of the academic year, his/her vacation leave for the succeeding academic year is pro-rated from the maximum, i.e., computed from 1.5 vacation leave days per month.

6.10.3 Unused vacation leaves not exceeding ten (10) days can be carried over to the succeeding academic year but should be used up within six (6) months; otherwise, these will be forfeited.

6.11 Parental leave

Parental leave of four (4) working days every year shall be granted to any married parent who has rendered at least one (1) year of service.

Solo parent, as defined by R.A. 8972 or the Solo Parents’ Welfare Act of 2000, who have rendered at least one (1) year of service shall be granted a total of seven (7) working days of parental leave every year.

Parental leave shall be non-cumulative and non-commutative. The application for leave shall be filed at least one (1) day before the intended date of absence.

6.12 Technology Commercialization Leave

The Technology Commercialization Leave allows eligible ASF to spend time away from their regular duties at the University to focus more intently on the commercialization of University-Owned Intellectual Property (IP) through a new business venture. It serves to encourage research-based entrepreneurship and enhance the successful transfer of University-Owned IP and/or knowledge to society.

A permanent ASF may apply for a TCL under the following conditions:

1. he/she desires to participate in a new business venture;
2. De La Salle University has assigned, licensed, transferred, or sold University-Owned IP to the new business venture.

Applications for TCL are endorsed by the Unit Head or Department Chair to the Knowledge and Technology Transfer Committee (KTTC), which evaluates the request and makes a recommendation to the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Academics (OVCA). The OVCA makes the final decision on whether to grant a TCL request.

15Leaves of absence that allow researcher-employees to undertake IP commercialization, especially of IP generated from government-funded research, are provided in Article VI, Sec. 12 of Republic Act 10055, or the Philippine Technology Transfer Act of 2009.
A TCL shall last for a period of up to one (1) year and is renewable for at most another one (1) year. A request for a TCL must be submitted at least one (1) term before the TCL is scheduled to begin.

A TCL shall be without pay. The duration of TCL will be counted towards retirement but shall not be credited towards years of service for purposes of service leave, sabbatical leave, research incentive and longevity benefit.

6.13 General Considerations on Leaves of Absence

6.13.1 Any leave of absence should be taken to coincide with the academic calendar.

6.13.2 An ASF member shall not secure employment elsewhere while on leave.

6.13.3 Permanent ASF members granted a leave are assured of retaining their faculty rank, though not necessarily their appointive position in the University. They have the option to continue payment of the contributions to SSS, Pag-IBIG and Philhealth but they will also have to pay the University’s share.

6.13.4 An ASF member may avail of a leave of absence under these stipulations, after approval by the Vice Chancellor for Academics upon the recommendation of the Dean/Head of the Unit. A formal reply from the Vice Chancellor for Academics specifying the type and conditions of leave is necessary for such leave to take effect.

6.13.5 An ASF member on approved leave who, as part of his/her contract, is expected to render corresponding years of service upon his/her return. If he/she fails to render such service, he/she shall be asked to repay all salaries and benefits received during such leave. In this case, the University may withhold any or all benefits accruing to the ASF member concerned.

6.13.6 An ASF member who goes on leave without official approval is considered resigned.

6.13.7 An ASF member who is leaving for abroad should apply for the intended leave to the Vice Chancellor for Academics through the Dean and Department Chair/Unit Head thirty (30) days before the effectivity of said leave. A formal reply from the Vice Chancellor for Academics should be furnished within seven (7) working days, excluding Saturdays, upon receipt of application. The requirement of thirty (30) days’ notice will not apply for sick leave, emergency leave, and attendance to conferences and other official meetings abroad. If the VCA does not reply within the prescribed period, the request for the intended leave is deemed approved.

6.13.8 ASF members on approved leave of absence should write the Vice Chancellor for Academics through the Dean and Department Chair/Unit Head about their intention to return forty-five (45) calendar days before the end of their leave; otherwise, they are considered resigned.
The advanced notice is required to give the University enough time to see to it that the ASF member concerned will have an assignment upon his/her return.

7. Retirement Benefits

7.1 The University retirement benefits consist of the following plans:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>University’s Contribution (%)</th>
<th>ASF Member’s Notes Contribution (%)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Plan A(CEAP)</td>
<td>4</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Plan B</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Plan C</td>
<td>4</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Plan D</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

ASF members are entitled to Plan A in accordance with the policies of the CEAP Retirement Plan. (Refer to Appendix J CEAP Retirement Plan, page 147).

ASF members are entitled to Plan B, for which they contribute two percent (2%) of their basic salary, inclusive of the contribution to Pag-IBIG. The University commits itself to matching the ASF member’s contribution (2% of basic monthly salary minus the contribution to Pag-IBIG). The total contributions go to a retirement fund governed by policies like those of the old CEAP retirement plan effective prior to October 1989.

Plan C applies to ASF members who are not enjoying tuition waivers for their children. The total contribution will be added to the University’s Retirement Fund. Although part of the University’s Retirement Plan, this contribution will be credited to the ASF member concerned; hence, he/she may withdraw this contribution, together with all interest, when he/she leaves the University.

When an ASF member enjoying tuition waiver benefits stops availing of such, he/she automatically is entitled to Plan C.

Full-time ASF members who have opted for Plan B may choose to participate in Plan D whereby they commit themselves to saving two percent (2%) of their basic salary while the University matches this with a three percent (3%) contribution. The total contribution will be added to the University’s additional Retirement Fund Plan and will also be governed by rules like those of the old CEAP Retirement Fund effective prior to October 1989.

Addendum regarding the old CEAP Retirement Plan: Plan B, C, and D will follow the old CEAP provisions effective prior to October 1989 and other policies that may be stipulated by the Retirement Board.

7.2 Computation of Retirement Benefits

7.2.1 For computing retirement benefits, an ASF member who has served the University for at least thirty (30) years shall be deemed promoted two (2) full steps upon retirement. An ASF who has served the University at least twenty (20) years but less than thirty (30) years shall be deemed promoted one (1) full step upon retirement.
7.2.2 Retirement benefits of ASF members shall be computed based on twenty-eight (28) days.

7.3 Retirement benefits due the retiring ASF member will be given to him/her on one of the following conditions:

7.3.1 at the mandatory age of 60, when service is not extended;

7.3.2 at the age of 62, when service is extended for two (2) years upon the recommendation of the Vice Chancellor for Academics;

7.3.3 at the age of 65, when service is extended for five (5) years upon the recommendation of the Service Extension Board;

7.3.4 upon early retirement (age 50 with 20 years of service).

7.4 Privileges of Retired ASF Members

7.4.1 They have permanent employee identification cards.

7.4.2 They enjoy University clinic, counseling, library (room use only), gymnasium/sports, and computer facilities (email account only), and discounts for purchases at the bookstore and the canteens.

7.4.3 They receive, upon request, publications of the University, which are generally furnished to the ASF member.

7.4.4 They are invited to University activities (colloquia, concerts, programs, sportsfests, etc.) and receive discounts on tickets where applicable.

8. Academic Service Faculty Development Benefits

8.1 Tuition discount for graduate studies in the master’s degree program, scholarship and other grants are provided under the Faculty Development Program of the University.

ASF members in the doctoral level who have been granted this privilege prior to Academic Year 2002-2003 shall continue to enjoy such privilege.

8.2 The Academic Service Faculty Development Committee is composed of the Vice Chancellor for Academics as presiding officer, College Deans, the Faculty Association President, faculty representative from each college, and an Academic Service Faculty representative. The Committee shall formulate the general guidelines for faculty development and review the guidelines of the College Faculty Development Committees.

8.3 All policies enunciated, and benefits decided, by the ASF Development Committee shall be an integral part of the Faculty Manual.

9. ASF Development Incentive

9.1 ASF members who have served for five (5) cumulative years with at least a rank of ASF II-1 will receive an ASF Development Incentive equal to one hundred percent (100%) of their monthly salary for projects completed and published in a national/international journal within the last two academic years.

9.2 The ASF development incentive shall only be seventy-five percent (75%) of the monthly salary for any of the following publishable projects completed within the last two academic years:

9.2.1 instructional program material, handbook/workbook/manual, or instrumentation/technical design that contributes to the efficient delivery of services to the academic community or effective systems and procedures of the unit.

9.2.2 paper presented at a colloquium, seminar, conference, workshop, or training course that contributes to the knowledge capital of the academic community and society.

9.2.3 case study, feasibility study/concept papers, project development study, evaluation/assessment study, validation study and the like, that contributes to the development of innovative program(s), or the improvement of existing program(s) of the unit.

9.3 For contracted projects, there should be a paper over and above the requirement of the project.

9.4 Projects that qualified for the incentive during the previous academic year may qualify for the current academic year provided the data are updated.

9.5 Joint projects/papers shall be treated as single ones, with the members of the project team deciding among themselves who shall be the recipient of the ASF development incentive and its concomitant benefits.

9.6 Endorsement will be made by the head of the unit/department concerned in consultation with the Associate Vice Chancellor concerned, who submits his/her recommendation to the Vice Chancellor for Academics.

9.7 The incentive allowance shall be given on August 15 of every year.

10. Disability Benefits

In addition to the benefits for long-term sickness and total permanent disability in accordance with the SSS Law, the following benefits are given subject to qualifications herein stated:

Permanent ASF members with at least three (3) years of service who are permanently disabled will receive a lump sum consisting of the latest monthly salary times the years of service, provided the amount of disability benefits shall not be less than PhP50,000 nor more than PhP300,000, and provided the ASF member at the time of disability is not eligible for early retirement benefits under the CEAP Plan. If he/she is so entitled, the ASF member is entitled to whichever amount is higher.
11. Death Benefits

When an ASF who is a member of the AFED passes away, members of the faculty association will contribute the equivalent of one (1) hour overload or part-time pay; ASF members in all units will contribute P500 each. The University will give an amount equivalent to one-and-a-half (1.5) times the total contribution of the faculty.

A permanent ASF member who reaches retirement age and who has served for fifteen (15) years may continue membership in the AFED and will continue to qualify for the death benefits stated above.

A faculty member who is entitled to retirement benefits at the time of his/ her death shall be granted both retirement and death benefits.

12. Parking Privileges

Parking spaces are designated for administrators (Associate Deans up). Parking in free slots on campus (not necessarily in the Leveriza area) is extended to members of the AFED, subject to rules and procedures in determining space, which may be reviewed at the start of the academic year.
THE LIVING TECHNICAL PANEL

1. There shall be a Living Technical Panel that will be composed of the following:

   Chancellor, as Chairperson
   Vice Chancellor for Academics
   Vice Chancellor for Research and Innovation
   Vice President for Lasallian Mission
   One (1) Dean
   President of AFED
   Three (3) Faculty Representatives appointed by the AFED President

2. The Living Technical Panel will have the following functions:

   2.1. To interpret the Faculty Manual

      2.1.1. The Living Technical Panel can be convened by the Chancellor upon the request of any of the Personnel Boards or Appeals Board, or by the Vice-Chancellor for Academics, or by the President of AFED.

      2.1.2. The panel is recommendatory in its interpretive function, since the decision on what to recommend in relation to faculty applications for personnel action remains to be the sole prerogative of the personnel and appeals boards.

      2.1.3. In interpreting the Faculty Manual, the Living Technical Panel shall consider the intent of the Technical Panel of the Manual, as can be obtained from the minutes of its deliberations.

   2.2. To amend the Faculty Manual

      2.2.1. Upon approval of a majority of all its members present in a meeting, the Living Technical Panel can deliberate on amendments to the Faculty Manual even before its effectivity lapses.

      2.2.2. The following are the conditions in which the Faculty Manual can be amended:

             2.2.2.1. When the regulatory environment requires an amendment

             2.2.2.2. When conflicting provisions are discovered

      2.2.3. However, such amendments can only be approved upon unanimous consent between the Administration and AFED

2. Publication and effectivity of amendment – Any amendment to the Faculty Manual takes effect only after it has been published through an HDA. Such effectivity can either be automatic upon publication if there is no other period specified or can be explicitly stated to take effect in a later date.

3. Quorum – The presence of two representatives from each side (Administration and AFED), with both the Chancellor and the AFED President in attendance, constitute a quorum.
Appendix A Implementing Guidelines

1. Relating to Service Leave and Loads

1.1 Service/sabbatical leaves will be included as actual service rendered for promotion purposes.

1.2 Half-time service with half pay will be given half credit for promotion, longevity, and service leave purposes.

1.3 As an exceptional case, a teaching load in a summer term may be considered part of a faculty member’s regular load in the subsequent trimester only when he/she is requested by the administration to forego his/her summer vacation because no one else could handle such teaching load.

2. Relating to Probationary Contracts

2.1 The years of service of faculty members on probation who have left the University for further studies or research and have completed a graduate degree or research will be restored by management if rehired.

2.2 Faculty member who resigns because of non-compliance with the degree and/or publication requirements can only be rehired as full-time upon fulfillment of these requirements.

2.3 The maximum continuous probationary period shall be nine (9) consecutive trimesters of full-time service.

3. Relating to Faculty Development

3.1 Contracts of faculty members on probationary status who go on leave for more than three (3) months for study/research purposes will be considered expired. The University reserves the option to rehire them upon the completion of their studies/research.

3.2 Faculty members who must go abroad for studies should arrange their schedules to conform with the University’s academic calendar, i.e., leave after the term and return to work at the start of a term.

3.3 Faculty members who go on leave within a term for study/research purposes are expected to teach before and/or after the leave.

3.4 Any extension of the approved period of leave must be with the written approval of the Chancellor.

3.5 For foreign grants, the role of the University in obtaining the grant should be considered. As such, the following classification should be observed:

3.5.1 If the role of the school is material to the faculty member’s getting the grant (i.e., the faculty member is the institutional nominee/recipient of a loan from the University/recipient of salary or honorarium during the leave), the faculty member should be bound by a service contract.

3.5.2 If a faculty member is attending a conference on a personal invitation (not through the school), there will be no need for a service contract.

3.5.3 If the research grant involves the submission of a research output, acceptance of such output by the sponsor of the grant fulfills the requirement of the grant; as such, the faculty member is no longer bound by a separate service contract.

3.5.4 Other cases, if any, will be governed by policies of the Faculty Development Program.

4. Relating to Leaves and Breaks in Service

4.1 Years of continuous service required for service and sabbatical leaves should immediately precede the term when the leave is applied for.

4.2 A break in service of more than one (1) term due to circumstances beyond the control of the faculty member concerned, e.g., accident or prolonged illness, while not credited towards years of service, does not disrupt the service of the faculty member if the leave is officially approved.

4.3 Faculty members on service leave must not teach but may mentor undergraduate and graduate theses provided the faculty member is willing.

4.4 Academic Service Faculty who availed of a service leave for one summer break may avail of a subsequent service leave during the summer break of the third school year following their last service leave.

4.5 A faculty member who went on leave for at least three (3) months, e.g., dissertation writing, study/training, service leave, cannot go on leave (except sabbatical) again in the same school year.

5. Relating to Hiring and Promotion/Reclassification

5.1 Definition of Terms

5.1.1 The term RANKS refers to Teaching Associate, Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, and Full Professor. The different levels within each rank are called STEPS.

5.1.2 SCHOLARLY OUTPUT means disseminated work contributing to the knowledge capital of the academic community and society. Departments may define scholarly outputs in accordance with the research requirements in the discipline but meeting the minimum requirements stipulated in the Faculty Manual.

If the work is published by the commissioning/contracting agency/organization, the said published document can be submitted for promotion purposes, along with supporting evidence of the faculty member’s contribution to the project.

Scholarly outputs include but are not limited to:
5.1.2.1 Published seminar paper, review article, instructional project material/manual, taxonomic collection, technical design, software, etc.

5.1.2.2 Unpublished work but presented in a seminar, colloquium, symposium, conference, workshop, or an output subjected to an evaluation/testing (e.g., manual) as the case may be. However, conference proceedings with specified ISSN may be counted for promotion up to the rank of Assistant Professor 4.

5.1.2.3 Creative works in the Humanities (Department of Communication, Department of Literature, and Department of Filipino) such as, but not limited, to short stories, collection of poems, novels, films, screenplays. For Department of Marketing and Advertising, award winning advertisements (ARAW, AGORA, ANVIL) are qualified.

5.1.2.4 Professionally accepted solutions manual for an internationally circulated textbook (for Math, Chemistry and Physics only) where there are no existing solutions manuals.

5.1.2.5 Legal briefs, decisions, resolutions, and other major legal documents done by the College of Law and Department of Commercial Law faculty members which shall be considered to support promotion up to the Assistant Professor 4 level.

5.1.2.6 Project designs done by Civil Engineering faculty members.

5.1.2.7 Published scholarly output used for promotion/reclassification can be used for permanency.

5.1.2.8 Scholarly output used for promotion/reclassification can be used for renewal.

5.1.2.9 A paper will be considered for promotion when it is published while the faculty is already affiliated with DLSU. A publication that does not include DLSU as the faculty’s affiliation may be considered for promotion under any of the following circumstances: (a) when it was submitted/accepted for publication before the faculty joined DLSU but was released after the faculty’s hiring date; (b) when it is related to the faculty’s dissertation and released within two years after the faculty’s hiring date; this may be considered for promotion up to the rank of Associate Professor 4.

5.1.2.10 A scholarly output that is superior to what is required for the rank can be accepted as the corresponding output requirement.
5.1.2.11 If the work is published by the commissioning/contracting agency/organization, the said published document can be submitted for promotion purposes, along with supporting evidence of the faculty member’s contribution to the project.

5.1.3 PUBLISHED SCHOLARLY OUTPUT - are research papers peer reviewed (refereed), printed, and disseminated by an internal or external publication office or organization. Revised papers from conference proceedings which are released in print or electronic form by the conference organizer may be considered as published scholarly output.

If the work is published by the commissioning/contracting agency/organization, the said published document can be submitted for promotion purposes along with supporting evidence of the faculty member’s contribution to the project.

5.1.4 MAJOR RESEARCH will be determined through the following criteria: nature, scope, impact, quality and acceptability to the discipline and the role of the research in new programs/projects.

This section refers to major research projects commissioned/contracted by an external agency/organization, but which cannot be published through conventional scholarly channels due to the proprietary nature of the work. In cases where a non-disclosure agreement is in force, it will be sufficient to present a certification of work accomplished from the commissioning/contracting agency, in lieu of the full document itself. If the work is published by the commissioning/contracting agency/organization, the said published document can be submitted for promotion purposes.

5.1.4.1 Multidisciplinary is used to refer to projects in which people from various disciplines come together to address a common problem while retaining their disciplinal perspectives and methodological strategies in analyzing aspects of the problem. For example, a research project on models of pedagogy in a learning institution may consist of three studies, each addressing the research question from the disciplinal perspectives and methodological strategies of philosophy (hermeneutics), psychology (grounded theory) and anthropology (ethnography). The findings from each of these studies are then discussed to come up with an integrated and more comprehensive view of these models of pedagogy. Each study can serve to aid in explaining the findings of the other studies.

5.1.4.2 Interdisciplinary refers to research that aims to address problems through a combination of disciplinal resources to gain an integrated view to a given problem. The problems addressed are of importance and are relevant to all disciplines involved in the research. For example, research determining how users of intelligent tutoring systems differently learn according to the sex and age of the embodied virtual agent is one that would be of relevance to, and will need to be undertaken by, computer scientists, psychologists, and education specialists. Thus, we have one research question to be answered more efficiently through the combined perspectives and methodologies of these three disciplines.

5.1.4.3 Transdisciplinary connotes a research strategy that crosses many disciplinary boundaries to create a holistic approach. What sets transdisciplinary studies apart from the others is a particular emphasis on engagement, investigation, and participation in addressing present-day issues and problems in a manner that explicitly destabilizes boundaries while respecting disciplinary expertise. It is a process by which researchers work jointly to develop and use a shared conceptual framework that draws together discipline-specific theories, concepts, and methods to address a common problem.

5.1.5 PUBLICATION means either PUBLISHED (printed or electronic copies) or IN PRESS. This may include publications in national or international books, chapter in books (not textbooks), monographs and review articles. It may also include exhibition, screening, or release of a creative work with appropriate documentation, to a national or international audience.

Publication in Press must be supported by a letter from the Journal’s Editor-in-Chief or Publisher stating the acceptance of the paper for publication, not merely submitted for consideration for publication nor accepted for publication with revision.

5.1.6 For promotion to the Full Professor rank, any of the following is considered major accomplishment that is equivalent to a graduate degree: Nobel prize, induction into the NAST, national scientist (not young scientist), national artist and Magsaysay awards.

5.1.7 JOINT RESEARCH and CREATIVE WORK refer to faculty research publication done jointly by a team/group i.e., with foreign/local co-workers or collaborators; with other in-house members and/or student mentees, which may be used by any author/proponent for purposes of promotion/reclassification.

For a publication co-authored with in-house faculty and/or student mentees, the contributions of all authors are valuable and necessary. However, to assist in evaluating the joint research, internal or external, the Promotions Board may request a specification of the contribution (signed by all the authors) of the author/proponent, for the same paper may be used by any one of the authors for promotion at DLSU. The contribution is not only in terms of pages written but primarily in terms of conceptualization, development, and analysis of the work.
5.1.8 For recommendations to the rank of Associate Professor 5 and higher, a scholarly output which is not in a refereed journal will require an external evaluation. However, the Board may waive such review if it considers the publisher to be reputable.

For a publication that will be subject to external review, five evaluators will be named by the department chair in consultation with the applicant and the senior faculty members within the department; two of these will be chosen by the Vice Chancellor for Academics.

5.1.9 SUBSTANTIAL CONTRIBUTIONS refer to a set of scholarly outputs and research activities, industry/professional related outputs. Substantial scholarly contributions refer to a combination of at least any five distinct scholarly outputs published in any of the following categories of scholarly outputs:

- publications in national or international journals,
- books or monographs,
- reports of commissioned or contracted research,
- papers presented in national or international conferences,
- other major scholarly or creative works, and
- patented work

These scholarly outputs can include outputs used in previous promotions or permanency. Unused papers can be used in determining steps within the ranks.

Industry/professional related outputs are program instrumentations that contribute to improve service delivery or effective systems and procedures of the organizations or industries.

Scholarly outputs not counted in previous promotions and are in excess of those required for promotion/reclassification, would still be considered as valid supporting documents for consideration in future promotion/reclassification within a fifteen-year period from the date of publication.

5.1.10 A patent is equivalent to an ISI journal publication. It can be used at any level but for one step promotions only.

5.1.11 Papers used for permanency can still be used for promotions and vice versa.

5.1.12 For creative works, the list of reputable publications, and reputable and refereed publications consists of titles submitted by the College of Liberal Arts (CLA) Committee on the Fair Evaluation of Creative Works to the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Academics, which have been approved by external reviewer/s.
5.1.13 Publications in ASEAN citation index or CHED level A are equivalent to Scopus/ISI publications.

5.1.14 Publications not listed in 5.1.13 may be considered as equivalent to Scopus/ISI provided they do not appear in predatory journals and the journal is favorably evaluated by referees designated by the appropriate College Research Council (CRC).

5.2. Specific Guidelines for a Balanced Performance Evaluation System for Promotion/Reclassification of Teaching Faculty and ASF to enable a more balanced performance appraisal of a faculty member, a balanced performance evaluation system covering the core functions of the faculty shall be followed.

5.2.1 Key Principles

5.2.1.1 A faculty member shall be scored in each core area/function based on performance evaluation and output.

5.2.1.2 There shall be two types of scores: a score in each area, and the minimum qualifying score for each step.

5.2.1.3 For Teaching Faculty, the areas are research, teaching and social engagement.

5.2.1.4 For ASF, the areas are academic service, research, and social engagement.

5.2.1.5 The score in each area is the sum of all scores based on the outputs and activities enumerated in 5.3.2 below.

5.2.1.6 The minimum qualifying score for each step is what is required to be promoted for such steps. This will be reckoned in relation to each of the steps being applied for.

5.2.1.7 For Faculty, this will have two required components, as specified in 5.2.2 below.

5.2.1.7.1 A research-based score obtained from academic publications.

5.2.1.7.2 A non-research-based score that is based on teaching and social engagement scores.

5.2.1.7.2.1 A deficit in this can be compensated by unused research-based points.

5.2.1.7.2.2 However, excess non-research-based points cannot compensate for deficits in required research scores.
5.2.1.8. For ASF, this will have three required components, as specified in 5.2.2 below

5.2.1.8.1. A score for academic service
5.2.1.8.2. A score for research outputs
5.2.1.8.3. A score for social engagement

5.2.1.9. Unused points can be banked for the next promotion/reclassification, as long as those are obtained from sources that are allowed for such ranks.

5.2.2. Performance Standards

The following tables present the minimum qualifying entry scores and required landing scores for the respective ranks.

The monitoring of daily attendance of an ASF is the responsibility of the Unit Head concerned. Each ASF will log in and out using a form for this purpose.

At the end of each month, a summary signed by the ASF and countersigned for veracity by the Unit Head will be submitted to the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Academics.

2. Other Guidelines:

2.1 Effective teaching performance is indicated by a composite evaluation (rounded off to one decimal place) derived from the student evaluation with a weight of 50%, and peers and Chair’s evaluation with a weight of 50%. The students’ evaluation shall be based on the weighted average of the evaluations since last promotion of the faculty member. In case the numerical rating is not conclusive, the Dean’s evaluation will be used.

2.1.1 Effective teaching performance is indicated by a composite evaluation (rounded off to one decimal place) derived from the student evaluation with a weight of 50%, peer evaluation of 25% and Chair’s evaluation of 25%.

2.1.2 The students’ evaluation shall be based on the average of all course evaluations since last promotion of the faculty member.

2.2 For ASF, effective performance is indicated by a composite evaluation (rounded off to one decimal place) derived from the evaluation of the Unit head and peers with a weight of 50% and from the evaluation of service recipients (students, faculty, and staff) with a weight of 50%.

2.3 Relating to attendance:

2.3.1 A trimester during which a faculty member incurs an unmade-up absence shall not be counted as compliance with the residency requirement for promotion. However, if the remaining period of residency of the faculty is still sufficient to warrant a promotion or reclassification, then said faculty may still be promoted or reclassified after excluding the term/s for which there is an unmade-up absence.

2.3.2 For a faculty member to be considered for promotion, the made-up absences must not exceed 5% of the total faculty contact hours per trimester except for justifiable reasons. In all cases, a letter must be sent to the Vice Chancellor for Academics to explain the absence within a week upon return.

Otherwise, if the made-up absences exceed 5%, the said trimester will not be counted as compliance with the residency requirement for promotion/reclassification.

However, if the remaining period of residency of the faculty is still sufficient to warrant a promotion or reclassification, then said faculty may still be promoted or reclassified.

2.3.3 Absences due to attendance in meetings/conferences must be official and should have prior approval in writing by the University. Without prior approval, this absence will be considered unexcused. A verbal prior approval will also not merit an excuse.

2.3.4 Classroom teaching takes precedence over other academic related activities. For example, a faculty member missing a class cannot be excused when he/she sits in a thesis or dissertation defense.

2.3.5 A faculty member’s absence due to his/her consultancy work cannot be excused.
Appendix B
Grid for Years of Service in Relation to Hiring/Promotion/Reclassification of Academic Faculty

Guidelines:

1. All applications should be supported by accompanying documents detailing the applicant's academic profile as follows:

   1.1 degrees earned (with official transcript of records and diploma);

   1.2 professional experience with detailed account of years of teaching and/or related/relevant professional/research experience (proof of employment may be required of applicants as requested);

   1.3 list of research articles, publications, academic/creative works done (copies of such should be made available to the Department and the Hiring Board);

   1.4 other academic/professional qualifications (e.g., training programs attended, grants/awards received, etc.); and

   1.5 list of professional and character references.

2. Work experience directly related to the Department for which one applies may be given the same credit as teaching experience\(^{15}\). Teaching on the elementary and secondary levels is given 1/4 and 1/3 equivalence of tertiary-level teaching, respectively. Employment experience relevant to the discipline for which one is recommended may be assigned the equivalent of one (1) year of teaching for every two (2) years of relevant practice.

3. The grid for hiring is a guide for considering years of experience in determining the rank/level. The final determination of the rank/level also considers relevant entry requirements such as academic degree, scholarly outputs, etc.

\(^{15}\) Directly related work experience refers to the applicant’s putting into practice a substantive aspect of training received within the discipline. Such practice includes those of: (1) post-doctoral experience; (2) professional contractor for Civil Engineering; (3) Media practitioner for Communication; (4) Sales or account executive for Business Management; (5) practice of profession for Accounting/Auditing/Finance work for Certified Public Accountants, and the like. The Hiring Board determines whether the applicant's previous employment record deserves being classified as related (1:1) or relevant (2:1).

Appendix C
Grid for Hiring/Promotion/Reclassification of Academic Service Faculty

1. All applications should be accompanied by supporting documents detailing the applicant's profile, such as:

   1.1 official transcript of records and diplomas evidencing degrees earned;

   1.2 resumé of professional experience complete with job description (proof of employment may be required);

   1.3 certificates of attendance and training programs, awards/grants received, and similar proofs for other academic/professional qualifications;

   1.4 copies of articles, monographs, books and other published writings; and

   1.5 list of professional and character references.

2. Professional practice is defined as work experience through which the applicant has put into practice a substantive aspect of the education and/or training received in the chosen field or profession, and/or which is directly related to the job requirement of the unit/department for which he/she has applied (e.g., library experience for faculty librarians, guidance/counseling practice for guidance counselors, etc.)

3. Relevant experience refers to employment experience relevant to the profession for which the applicant is recommended, which may be assigned an equivalent of one (1) year of professional practice for every two (2) years of relevant experience, i.e., a 1:2 ratio as applied in the case of ASF-I, or one (1) year of professional practice for every three (3) years of relevant experience, a 1:3 ratio as in the case of ASF-II.

4. After evaluating the applicant's previous employment record, the Hiring Board determines which should be considered actual practice of the profession and which may be deemed years of relevant experience.

5. The grid for hiring is a guide for considering years of experience in determining the rank/level. The final determination of the rank/level is also based on relevant entry requirements such as academic degree, etc.

Appendix D
Guidelines for the Dress Code of Faculty:
Attire and Grooming Policy

Purpose. The management of De La Salle University recognizes and respects that deciding how to dress for work is a personal decision. However, faculty members are also the face of the University as an organization projecting a public image to the world at large. In this connection, faculty members must recognize and respect that the dress choices they make affect not just their own comfort but also that of colleagues, the workplace environment and the image the University is trying to convey to clients, potential clients and workplace visitors that include (1) students and their parents, (2) administrators and colleagues from other schools and universities, (3) alumni, donors, institutional partners both local and international, just to name a few. Inappropriate attire and offensive perfumes and body odor are included in these guidelines for attire and grooming.

Appropriate Attire. All clothing must be clean, well pressed and in good repair.

Inappropriate Attire. The following are considered inappropriate and should not be worn to work:

- Cut-offs
- Thong footwear of any kind
- Tank tops, tube tops, halter tops with spaghetti straps, off the shoulder tops
- Beach wear

Jewelry, Make-up, Perfume and Cologne. Jewelry should be in good taste, with limited visible body piercing. A faculty member’s poor hygiene or use of too much perfume and cologne is an issue. Remember that body odor can be offensive. Also, chemicals in perfumes, colognes and make-up may trigger allergic reactions in some people so, these must be worn with some restraint.
Hats and Head Covering. Hats are not appropriate inside the office and classroom. Head covers that are required for religious purposes or to honor cultural tradition are allowed.

Enforcement. Please see Item number 16 in Appendix F Table of Offenses and Sanctions, page ____.

Requests for Accommodation. The Dress Code is enforced in a way that respects the personal circumstances of each faculty member including his/her race, religion, gender, physical/mental condition, nationality, and family status. Faculty may request the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Academics (VCA) for exemptions or accommodations to this Dress Code on these and other grounds. All requests for accommodation will be seriously considered based on the circumstance involved.

Appendix E
Review Process of Academic Personnel Board Actions

Motion for Reconsideration

In the face of an unfavorable decision of the Promotion/Reclassification or Renewal/Permanency Board, a faculty member may, within 30 days after being officially notified of the decision, file a motion for reconsideration to the Board that deliberated on his/her case on any one of the following grounds.

a) He/she did not have the chance to explain or clarify an issue that was raised against him/her.

b) He/she believes that there was prejudice/bias in rendering the decision on his/her case that the promotion/reclassification of a faculty member in a similar situation was acted upon favorably.

c) Some information that can significantly influence the decision to the faculty member’s favor was not made available or was not considered during the deliberations of the board.

d) The phrase, “not made available”, means that the material(s) containing such information was already submitted by the faculty within the lead time but was not considered during the deliberations.

e) There is ambiguity in the interpretation of the provision of the Faculty Manual. The resolution of the appeal needs clarification on the proper interpretation of the Living Technical Panel.

The motion for reconsideration should clearly indicate that the faculty member was properly apprised of the points and issues raised during the deliberations on his/her case and that based on consultation with the Chair and the AFED President, he/she believes there is ground to make an appeal. It should be addressed to the head of the appropriate Board noted by the Chair and the AFED President.

Appeal

Should the Board sustain its unfavorable decision, the faculty member can file an appeal within 30 days after being officially notified of the Board’s decision to the Vice Chancellor for Academics for Boards under the College Deans, or to the Chancellor for Boards under the Vice Chancellor for Academics. The said appeal must be in writing. Additional arguments may be offered by the faculty in his/her appeal letter addressed to the Chancellor or the VCA, respectively.

Composition of the Appeals Committee

For Appeals addressed to the office of the Vice Chancellor for Academics, the following shall be the members:

- Vice Chancellor for Academics as Chair
- Dean from another College selected by the VCA
- Chair of another Department from the same College selected by the VCA
Senior Faculty from the same discipline chosen by the Department members, excluding the Chair and the applicant
AFED Representative

For Appeals addressed to the Office of the Chancellor, the following shall be the members:

Chancellor as Chair
Dean from another College selected by the Chancellor
Chair of another Department from the same College selected by the Chancellor
Senior Faculty from the same discipline chosen by the Department members, excluding the Chair and the applicant
AFED Representative

The appeals Board may, in addition to reviewing documents, may opt to call the applicant and the members of the Board whose decision is being appealed for clarificatory questions, when necessary.

An unfavorable decision by an Appeals Board chaired by the VCA can be appealed to the Chancellor, following the same procedures as above.

An unfavorable decision by an Appeals Board chaired by the Chancellor can be appealed to the President, who will make the final decision upon a careful review of the documentation of the proceedings.

A faculty member is required to exhaust all remedies in the process. Thus, before an appeal can be made, a motion for reconsideration should first be filed to the original Board. Only when such motion is denied that an appeal becomes a valid course of action.
Appendix F

N.B. The Table of Offenses is meant as a guide but does not preclude the imposition of higher penalties depending on the gravity of the actual offense and circumstances in its commission.

Pursuant to RA 11036, otherwise known as the Mental Health Law, any mental health condition that is claimed and proven, as certified by a competent mental health professional, will be considered as an exempting circumstance. In this said situation, the faculty concerned will not be subjected to the punitive measure found in the table of offenses and penalties but would be required to undergo counselling and other psychological interventions. In cases like these, identities and records of the proceedings will be held in strict confidentiality in accordance with applicable laws.

Sanction will depend on the gravity of the offense as defined in the case of PNOC-EDC v. Frederick V. Abella, [G.R. No. 153904. January 17, 2005]:

Insubordination or willful disobedience by an employee, to constitute a just cause for terminating his/her employment, the orders, regulations, or instructions of the employer or representative must be:

1. reasonable and lawful,
2. sufficiently known to the employee; and
3. in connection with the duties which the employee has been engaged to discharge.

Appendix G
Procedures for Grievance

General Considerations

Grievances against any member of a Lasallian academic community are best settled through sincere dialogue and discussion. It is only as a last resort that one must take formal procedures to settle grievances.

Communication is necessary if members of the academic community are to interact satisfactorily. Those affected should not wait for a crisis to develop before attempting to settle the matter amicably.

Only when a grievance is expressed in writing and duly signed by the aggrieved party does it become a formal complaint requiring a formal procedure for resolution. The only exception to this is when the actionable act was committed in flagrante delicto in front of the disciplining authorities.

Ordinarily, a formal complaint should be filed within three months after the commission of the offense.

Except for gender-based sexual harassment cases, all complaints should be filed with the office of the appropriate head of unit prescribed below. These cases will be filed with the Lasallian Center for Inclusion, Diversity and Well-Being (LCIDWell).

A. Complaint of a Faculty Member against Students

The faculty member submits a formal complaint with the Student Discipline and Formation Office (SDFO) for appropriate action, copy furnished the Dean of the College to which the student belongs.

B. Complaint of a Faculty Member against a Member of the Co-Academic Personnel (CAP)/Administrative and Professional Service Personnel (APSP).

The faculty member files a formal complaint with the Office of the Community Culture, and Human Resources Services (for CAP respondents and APSP respondents) for appropriate action; copy furnished the Dean/immediate superior of the CAP/APSP.

C. Complaint of a Faculty Member against another Faculty Member

1. A conflict between two faculty members of the same department should be settled within the Department. The faculty member sends a written communication to his/her Department Chair. The Chair of the Department concerned tries to settle the case amicably through a dialogue with the respondent and complainant present. Should the decision be unacceptable to any party concerned, the complaint may be elevated to the Dean of the College concerned. The Dean then transmits the complaint to the Office of the University Legal Counsel for initial inquiry.

2. A conflict involving faculty members belonging to two different Departments in the same College should be settled within the College. The complaining faculty member sends a written communication to the Dean of the College concerned who tries to settle the issue amicably. If an amicable settlement is not reached, the Dean transmits the complaint to the OULC for initial inquiry.

3. A conflict involving faculty members belonging to two different Colleges, should be settled amicably through the intercession of the Deans concerned. The complaining faculty member sends a written communication to his/her Dean who tries to resolve the matter amicably through a dialogue with complainant, respondent, and his/her College Dean present. If an amicable settlement is not reached, the Dean of the complainant transmits the case to Vice Chancellor for Academics who shall then refer the matter to the OULC for initial inquiry.

D. Complaint of a Faculty Member Against a Department Chair

The faculty member sends a written communication to the Dean, who tries to settle the issue amicably. Should the decision be unacceptable to any party concerned, the Dean shall refer the case to the OULC for initial inquiry.

E. Complaint of a Faculty Member against a Dean and Associate Dean

The faculty member sends a written communication to the Vice Chancellor for Academics, who tries to settle the issue amicably. Should the decision be unacceptable to any party concerned, the VCA shall refer the case to the OULC for initial inquiry.

F. Complaint against a Vice Chancellor/Vice President and Associate Vice Chancellor

The complainant sends a written communication to the Chancellor of the University, who tries to settle the issue amicably. If unresolved, the Chancellor shall refer the case to the OULC for initial inquiry.

G. Complaint Against a Member of the Society of Fellows

For conflicts involving a faculty who is a member of the Society of Fellows, the head of the Grievance Board shall furnish the Head of the Society of Fellows with a copy of the complaint/s or accusation/s against the member of the Society. The Head of the Grievance Board shall also furnish the Head of the Society of Fellows with a copy of the board’s decision.

H. Complaint against a Chancellor

The complainant sends a written communication to the President, who tries to settle the issue amicably. If unresolved, the President shall refer the case to the OULC for initial inquiry.

I. Complaint against the University President

The complainant sends a written communication to the Chairperson of the Board of Trustees.
J. For gender-based sexual harassment cases, all complaints should be filed with the office of the Lasallian Center for Inclusion, Diversity and Well-Being (LCIDW). The investigation and resolution of these cases will follow the procedures described in Appendix M.

K. For interpersonal disputes when the complaining party is the head of unit, and the respondent is one of his/her subordinates.

The case shall be handled at the level of the immediate supervisor of the complaining head of unit (Dean when the complainant is a Chair, Vice Chancellor for Academics when the complainant is the Dean, Chancellor when the complainant is the Vice Chancellors or Vice Presidents or Associate Vice Chancellors, President when the complainant is the Chancellor. However, this only apply when the case involves personal issues. In addition, when the complaint is in relation to gender-based sexual harassment, such should be filed with the office of the Lasallian Center for Inclusion, Diversity and Well-Being.

I. Amicable Settlement

The responsible head of unit is given at most one week upon receipt of such written complaint to initiate an amicable settlement of the grievance. There are however cases where an amicable settlement is not required, or even appropriate:

This is when the case is not emanating from personal disputes between parties (e.g., intellectual dishonesty and plagiarism), or if the complaining party is not under the jurisdiction of the University.

When the case is committed under the Safe Spaces Act and is a gender-based sexual harassment case, amicable settlement is available but under the provisions followed by LCIDW.

For motu proprio cases described below

An amicable settlement, whenever applicable, is preferred. However, it is not mandatory. A complaining party can upfront manifest his/her unwillingness to enter an amicable settlement proceeding. This shall be respected, even if the process can still be settled amicably should the complaining party decide to change his or her mind later in the process.

Preliminary Inquiry

Not later than two weeks after a dialogue between the parties is unresolved, the Dean/Head of the Unit or Vice Chancellor for Academics, or Chancellor, or President, where applicable, transmits the complaint to the Office of the University Legal Counsel who shall then conduct a preliminary inquiry to determine if there is a prima facie case. The OULC may decide to dismiss the case. Should a prima facie case be established, the OULC will transmit to the Dean, or Vice Chancellor for Academics, or Chancellor, or President, a recommendation containing its finding of prima facie, detailing the specific nature of the offense for which the respondent will be charged. The decision of the OULC is final and unappealable.

When the penalty for such act is suspension and higher, the witnessing head will submit a recommendation for appropriate penalty and send this to the Dean (for Chairs), the Vice Chancellor for Academics (for Deans), or to the Chancellor (for Vice Chancellors) for appropriate action. These officials may refer the matter to the OULC for further investigation, or conduct their own investigation, if they deem it necessary, and whenever needed, form the appropriate grievance committee.

These types of proceedings however do not apply to the following:

Decisions by the Vice Chancellor for Academics upon appeal can still be appealed to the office of the Chancellor. Decisions by the Chancellor upon appeal can still be appealed to the Office of the President. The Chair of the Original Board should be furnished a copy of the Appeal.

Decisions by Grievance Boards chaired by the Chancellor may be appealed to the Office of the President.

Upon receipt of the notice of appeal, the Chair of the Original Board shall transmit to the Appellate Office all the records of the proceedings.

Only those cases whose penalty is up to suspension are covered by this provision on appeals.

Automatic Review and Service Review Boards

Appendix J
CEAP Retirement Plan*

Nature of Plan

1. What is the CEAP Retirement Plan?

It is a plan established to provide retirement benefits for the qualified employees of the member institutions of (a) the CEAP member schools and CEAP Secretariat and Retirement Office and (b) other Catholic institutions which are subsequently accepted by the Retirement Commission.

2. What other institutions may be accepted as Participating Employers in the Plan?

Any Catholic school or institution may be accepted, provided that said Catholic school or institution becomes CEAP-accredited within 12 months from the date of acceptance in the Plan and that in the opinion of the Commission, sufficient proof exists to show that the applicant intends and has the capacity, financial and otherwise, to continue its participation in the Plan indefinitely, and provided further that its acceptance will not prejudice the tax exemption of the Plan.

3. Is the CEAP Retirement Plan qualified under BIR regulations?

Yes, and as such, Participating Employers and Members of the Plan are entitled to the following privileges:

a. All school contributions to the Fund are deductible from the school’s taxable income, if any.

b. The income of the retirement fund is exempt from tax.

c. The benefit payments from the fund to the teacher recipient are exempt from tax.

Membership

1. Who are qualified to become Members in the Plan?

All regular employees of the Participating Employers, including probationary employees but excluding part-time, casual, and temporary employees, whose ages are less than 60 years shall automatically become members of the Plan. Membership shall commence on the first day of the month coincident with or next following the date on which the above requirements are met.

2. Does a full-time employee who changes his/her status to a part-time employee still qualify to become a member in the Plan?

* This is the CEAP Retirement Plan as of 1969. Inquiries regarding this maybe referred to the Controller.
The CEAP Retirement Plan does not cover part-time employees. The original Plan considered as members “regular” employees of a Participating Employer. The latest amended Plan categorically states that “part-time” employees are excluded.

In view of this provision in the Plan, a part-time employee cannot be a member of the Plan. A full-time employee who changes his/her status to a part-time employee may be considered as one who has resigned as a full-time employee and applied for employment and was hired as part-time employee. By that voluntary change of status from full-time to part-time, the employee loses even the tenure he had as a full-time employee. Another consequence is that he can no longer be considered a member of the CEAP Retirement Plan and therefore must be paid whatever benefits he is entitled to under Sec. 3 Art. XI of the Plan.

3. What is meant by continuous service?

Continuous service means the uninterrupted service as determined by the Participating Employer's personnel records. Leaves of absence approved by the Participating Employer with or without pay and school vacation shall not constitute an interruption of service, but only periods of compensated service shall be used in computing benefits under the Plan.

4. If a member resigns after having been admitted into the Plan and is afterwards re-employed by the same Participating Employer, will he be treated as a new member?

Yes, except when it concerns portability of benefits.

5. What is meant by portability of benefits?

It is a feature of the Retirement Plan wherein the credit earned by a member from his Participating Employer who has rendered less than 10 years of continuous service is carried to his new Participating Employer and the length of service in both will be taken into consideration in determining his total years of continuous service for purpose of Section 3, Article XI only but not for purpose of computing his retirement benefits. Furthermore, the following requirements must be met:

- He/She must first secure the approval of the Participating Employer whose service he/she is leaving,
- He/She must notify in writing the Chairman of the CEAP Retirement Commission of his/her decision; and
- He must be employed by another Participating Employer within a period of one (1) year following the effective date of his resignation.

However, if upon resignation or separation, the Member has already rendered at least ten (10) years of continuous service with a Participating Employer or with two or more successive Participating Employers, he shall be paid the proportion of the amount standing to his credit, as provided in Section 3, Article XI.
Beneficiaries

1. Who can be nominated as beneficiaries?

Any Member shall upon joining the Fund, forthwith nominate in writing in such forms, as shall be described by the Retirement Commission (CEAP-RB Forms No.1 and 8), a person or persons to receive the amount which may be due him in case of his death from among those enumerated hereunder in the order specified.

- Legitimate spouse and children
- Parents
- Brothers and sisters
- His estate or any other person or entity

However, single or unmarried members may indicate any beneficiary not necessarily following the order provided by the law on intestate succession.

2. If a member fails to nominate any beneficiary, who shall receive the benefits due him/her in the event of his/her death?

If at the death of a member there shall exist no valid nomination by him of a beneficiary, he/she shall be conclusively presumed to have appointed, as his beneficiary or beneficiaries, the person or persons in the first of the following classes then surviving:

a. Legitimate spouse and children
b. Parents
c. Brothers and sisters
d. His estate.

3. If the beneficiary is a minor or under any disability at the time of death of the member, to whom shall the benefits be given?

In case the beneficiary is a minor or is under any disability to give a legal discharge for payment of the benefits, the benefits shall be paid to the duly appointed judicial guardian and in behalf of the minor or person under disability, except that where the beneficiary is a minor and the benefits due him/her amount to P50,000.00 or less, payment may be made to his legal guardian, in accordance with Article 225 of the Family Code of the Philippines.

Contribution

1. Are the Members required to contribute to the CEAP Retirement Fund?

The CEAP Retirement Plan is basically non-contributory. No member shall be required to make any contribution to the Fund. However, prior to his retirement, a member may, at his option, elect to contribute monthly to the Trust Fund an amount equal to 1% but not more than 4% of his current monthly salary, provided that the option, once exercised, will serve as a continuing authority for the Participating Employer to deduct every month thereafter the corresponding amount from his salary and to remit the same to the Trustee.
The contribution shall be subject to the provisions of the Plan and shall not be subject to withdrawal unless for a cause provided herein.

2. How does a Member apply for voluntary contribution?

A member who wishes to contribute voluntarily to the Fund should fill out CEAP-RB Form No. 10 which will serve as a continuing authority for the Participating Employer to deduct every month the indicated percentage of salary as voluntary contribution and to remit the same to the Trustee.

3. How much should a Participating Employer contribute to the Fund in behalf of its covered employees?

Starting from the date of acceptance into the plan, each Participating Employer is required to contribute to the Fund the following amounts:

- Past service - 5% of each member’s average monthly salary for the 12-month period immediately preceding the date of acceptance of the Participating Employer in the Plan multiplied by the number of months of past service. It may be paid into the Fund either in lump sum or in equal monthly installments over a period of 10 years or over a period up to the member’s normal retirement date, whichever is the shorter period.

- Future service - 4% of each member’s current monthly salary, effective AY 1994-1995

On a voluntary basis, Participating Employers which can afford to contribute more to the Trust Fund may further increase their future service contributions provided that every percentage increase in the Participating Employer’s contributions may be matched by the employee as forced savings.

4. What is meant by Future Service?

Future service shall mean periods of covered employment on or after July 1, 1968 or after the acceptance of Participating Employer for which contributions are paid in accordance with Section 2, Article VI.

5. What is meant by Past Service?

Past service shall mean that continuous service of a member to the Participating Employer from the date the member met the requirements for membership in the Retirement Plan to the date of acceptance of the Participating Employer in the Plan.

Administration

1. How is the Plan administered?

A Retirement Commission composed of not less than 12 persons appointed by the CEAP National Board shall administer the Plan. All questions relating to the operation and administration of the Fund, except those strictly pertaining to its investments, shall be resolved by the Commission.
This includes but is not limited to the power to interpret, construe and administer the Plan to determine the rights of members and their beneficiaries to the Fund, and all such powers necessary or useful in the discharge of its duties. The Commission may seek the advice of counsel and may appoint an independent accountant to audit the Fund, with professional fees and expenses to be charged to the Fund.

2. What is the role of the Retirement Commission’s Investment Committee?

The investment committee anchors its investment philosophy on the belief that it has a fiduciary responsibility to the Participating Employers and members of the Plan to exercise prudence and conservatism in the management of theirs funds. It also believes that superior returns can only be achieved over the long-term by gaining a thorough understanding of the myriad and constantly changing factors effecting the investment markets and by the active participation in the management of the Fund’s portfolio.

3. Who has been appointed as Trustee of the CEAP Retirement Fund?

Metrobank is the appointed Trustee of the CEAP Retirement Fund.

4. What is the role of the Trustee?

The Trustee receives, invests and re-invests the contributions from the Participating Employers and voluntary contributions from the members and releases payments of benefits due to the retired/separated individual members and beneficiaries of the Plan.

5. What is the role of KPMG-F.F.Miravite, Inc.?

KPMG-F.F.Miravite, Inc., consulting actuaries, is in charge of backroom operations of the Fund, handles record-keeping, computation of retirement benefits, consolidation of financial statements and preparation of the Participating Employer’s and individual members' Statement of Participants’ Equities and individual statements of account respectively.

• All earnings of the Fund during the prior fiscal year;

Retirement Dates

1. When can a Member retire from the service of a Participating Employer?

A member may retire on early, normal, or late/deferred retirement date.

2. What is the normal retirement date?

For faculty or academic members, the normal retirement date of a member shall be the last day of the semester during which he attains age sixty (60) or, if he reaches age 60 outside of a semester, his actual birthday.

For other members, the normal retirement date shall be the day he reaches age 60.

3. What is the optional or early retirement date?

For faculty or academic members, with the consent of the Participating Employer, a member may retire at an early retirement date which may be the last day of the semester after he has rendered twenty (20) years of continuous service or if the last day of his 20th year of service falls outside of a semester, on the said last day itself.

For other members, the early retirement date, with the consent of the Participating Employer, may be the day the member has completed twenty (20) years of continuous service to the Participating employer.

4. What is the deferred/late retirement date?

Under exceptional circumstances and upon the request of the Participating Employer, a member may be asked to continue active service after his normal retirement date but in no case to exceed age 65. Contributions to the Plan with respect to such member shall continue until his actual retirement from the Plan.

Payment of Benefits

1. What is the benefit scheme of the Plan?

The retirement benefits payable under the Retirement Plan shall be computed based on the total amount standing to the credit of the member in the books of the Trust Fund consisting of his own contributions and income earned, if any, and the contributions of his Participating Employer in his favor plus the income earned respectively credited thereto determined as of the last valuation date.
2. What are the benefits of a member upon reaching early and normal retirement date?

A member who reaches his normal retirement date or who elects to retire upon reaching his early retirement date shall be entitled to and shall be paid the whole amount standing to his credit at retirement.

If the early or normal retirement benefits to be received by the member from contributions made by his Participating Employer in his favor shall be less than what is required by law as a lump sum retirement benefit, his Participating Employer shall pay the difference.

Retirement benefits under the Labor Code, as amended by R.A. 7641 are exempt from income tax.

3. Is a member entitled to any benefits under the Plan upon separation prior to retirement?

A member who is separated from his Participating Employer prior to retirement due to resignation or for any reasons other than dismissal for cause attributable to the fault of the member, shall be entitled a) to the return of his total contributions plus the income accrued thereon under the Trust Fund, if any, and b) to a specified proportion of the total contribution of his Participating Employer in his favor plus the income credited thereto under the Trust fund computed in accordance with his length of membership in the Plan as follows:

4. In case of separation prior to retirement, how is the member’s length of membership in the Plan/tenure of service reckoned?

The tenure of service of a member shall be reckoned from actual date of hire with the Participating Employer. Leaves of absence without pay shall not be considered as an interruption of continuous service, but the period during which the member is on leave without pay shall not be considered as part of his years of service.
5. What is the procedure for the payment of retirement/separation benefits?

Application for the payment of retirement/separation benefits must be made in writing in the form (CEAP-RB Form No 9) and manner prescribed by the Commission and must be filed by the member with the Retirement Office duly endorsed by the authorized signatory of his Participating Employer at least 30 days in advance of the date of actual retirement, resignation, or separation.

The Retirement Commission shall be the sole judge of the sufficiency of the information submitted, the application and the interpretation of the Plan and the entitlement to and the amount of the benefits. The decision of the Commission shall be final and binding upon all parties.

6. Is involuntary separation qualified as to the length of service and age of the official or employee?

No. Amounts received by reason of involuntary separation remains exempt from tax even if the official or employee at the time of separation had less than 10 years of service and is below 50 years in age.

Thus, it is generally only those who voluntarily resign after 10 years of service who will be taxed on their separation benefits prior to retirement. Those who are separated due to sickness, redundancy, or retrenchment to avoid serious business losses or the installation of labor-saving devices will still be entitled to tax-exemption of their separation benefits under the Labor Code. Moreover, the member shall be entitled to 100% of the amount standing to his credit regardless of such member’s length of service, or the amount due him under the law, whichever is higher.

7. How are the benefits paid to a separating or retiring member?

The benefits payable to a member may either be paid to him or his beneficiary/beneficiaries directly in lump sum.

8. What other benefits aside from separation/retirement benefits are payable under the Plan?

Death Benefit – In case of death of a member, 100% of the amount standing to his credit under the books of the Trust Fund plus the proceeds of his additional death benefit under the Plan shall be paid to his beneficiary of beneficiaries, or in their absence to the persons referred to in Section 2, Article V regardless of such deceased member’s length of service with his Participating Employer. The Participating Employer should file with the Retirement Office in behalf of the deceased member CEAP-RB Form No. 11 – Application for Death Benefit with supporting documents to expedite processing of same.

The amount of additional death benefit is equivalent to one (1) year salary based on the member’s latest salary but shall not exceed ₱150,000.00. However, employees of Participating Employers which have failed to remit the contributions for a total of twelve (12) months shall not be entitled to this additional death benefit and the Participating Employer shall pay the beneficiary of the deceased employee an amount equivalent to this additional death benefit. In any case, where the Plan pays this death benefit, the unpaid contributions of the Participating Employer for the deceased employee shall be deducted from the death benefit, without prejudice to the beneficiaries claiming from the Participating Employer these unpaid contributions deducted from the death benefit.

Disability Benefit – A member who is separated from his Participating Employer for reason of permanent total incapacity or disability shall be entitled to 100% of the amount standing to his credit from the Trust Fund regardless of such member’s length of service, or the amount due him under the law, whichever is higher. The determination of permanent total incapacity or disability shall be made by the doctor to be designated by the Participating Employer, and his judgment shall be final.

9. Will a member who is dismissed by his Participating Employer for cause be entitled to any part of the Fund?

A member who is dismissed by his Participating Employer for cause attributable to his fault shall not be entitled to any part of the Fund except his own contributions with the particular income accrued thereon.

10. Are the contributions in favor of a separated or resigned member returned to the Participating Employer?

If a member separates or resigns from his Participating Employer with less than 10 years of continuous service, the amount standing to his credit shall be retained in the Trust Fund and such credit classified as forfeitures shall be used by the Participating Employer to reduce its subsequent contributions to the Fund.

Similarly, if a member separates or resigns from his Participating Employer with more than 10 years but less than 20 years of continuous service, the portion of the amount standing to the credit of the resigned or separated member which is not paid to him by virtue of the limitations of the vesting provisions of the Plan, classified as forfeitures, shall be used by the Participating Employer to reduce its subsequent contributions to the Fund.

Termination of Participation

1. Can a Participating Employer withdraw its membership in the Plan?

For adverse factors beyond its control, a Participating Employer may withdraw at any time from its participation in the Plan by serving written notice and submission of Board Resolution with the Retirement Commission of its intention to withdraw. The withdrawal shall become effective fifteen (15) days after the acceptance thereof by the Retirement Commission.

Under no circumstances whatsoever shall such withdrawal permit the return to the Participating Employer of any portion of the contributions made by it to the Fund, nor allow any part of the assets of the Fund to be used for, or diverted to purposes other than the exclusive benefit of the members of the withdrawing Participating employer or their beneficiaries.

2. In the case of voluntary withdrawal, do the contributions revert to the Participating Employer?

No. After providing for any administrative expenses and other charges, the amounts standing to the credit of its employees who are members of the Plan shall be allocated and distributed among said members.
However, should the Participating Employer withdraw from the Plan with the intention of setting up its own retirement plan or segregating its own retirement fund, the amounts standing to the credit of its employees shall be transferred to its duly appointed Trustee.

3. Does a member have any claim on the amounts standing to his credit in the Plan?

No member of the Plan shall have any claim upon the amounts standing to his credit in the Plan other than in accordance with the rules of the Plan. Specifically, he/she shall have no right of alienation or assignment of any sum standing to his credit, nor shall it be liable for or subject to any obligation or liability of such member except as otherwise provided by law or this Plan.

If a member alienates, assigns, cedes, pledges or charges the whole part of his/her interests under the Plan or any part thereof without written consent of the Participating Employer, or if any member shall be adjudged insolvent by a competent court, he shall forfeit all his rights and interests under the Plan.

DLSU Safe Spaces Policy and Program

I. Statement of Legal Compliance

In accordance with the Republic Act No. 11313 to be known as the Safe Spaces Act or "AN ACT DEFINING GENDER-BASED SEXUAL HARASSMENT IN STREETS, PUBLIC SPACES, ONLINE, WORKPLACES, AND EDUCATIONAL OR TRAINING INSTITUTIONS, PROVIDING PROTECTIVE MEASURES AND PRESCRIBING PENALTIES THEREFORE" enacted on April 17, 2019 to address existing gaps and issues on equality, security, and safety of both women and men in private and public spaces; and its Implementing Rules and Regulations pursuant to Section 38 of R.A. 11313 approved on October 28, 2019. The Safe Spaces Act is intended to expand the scope of the Anti-Sexual Harassment Act of 1995 or Republic Act No. 7877. The University hereby adopts the following policy on full promotion of the value and dignity of every human person and guarantee full respect for human rights; recognize the role of women in nation-building and ensure the fundamental equality, security, and safety not only in private but also on the streets, public spaces, online, workplaces and educational and training institutions.

II. Declaration of University Safe Spaces Policy (Purpose)

The Guiding Principles of the Philippine Lasallian Family define the kind of the Lasallian presence and mission in the country today. As provided by the Lasallian tradition, there are three elements that enable our participation. These elements, taken together as one dynamic unity, provide a way of integrating and expressing every Lasallian’s vocation: The Spirit of Faith allows one to discover God’s active presence in His Word, in members of the community, in the poor, in nature, in history and in ourselves; Zeal for the integral Salvation of all allows one to actively express their faith in gospel witness and service. It is enthusiastically giving of oneself that involves preferential concern for the poor and the vulnerable; Communion in Mission, Mission as Communion allows one to work in solidarity and collaborations as a way of accomplishing the mission. Our response to the call is to be in association with the mission and articulate (1) faith in the presence of God (2) respect for all Persons (3) Inclusive Community (4) Quality Education and (5) Concern for the Poor and vulnerable (Our Lasallian Tradition, 2020).

The Lasallian Guiding Principles defined the Poor and the vulnerable as:

“All those deprived of the means to realize their dignity as persons. In a broader sense, these are men, women and children who suffer from various forms of “poverty as frustration,” the impoverishment born of injustice, physical and social evils, personal insufficiency and failure”

DLSU as a Community of Faith and Zeal. We are guided by the life of the Gospel emphasizing the inalienable dignity of each person and striving to develop authentic personal relationships through trust and mutual respect. As a tertiary school, we seek to serve and embrace each member of the community with varied needs and diverse personal, social and cultural backgrounds and do so, in providing accommodations which are committed to living the Lasallian mission.
DLSU, as an institution that facilitates personal and social development, adheres to the mandates of the Philippine Laws to lift the dignity, respect and raise the awareness of its members of their rights within and beyond the bounds of the university, specifically the observance of the Safe Spaces Act that ensures the preservation of human dignity and assures people of their rights.

Faithful to its mission as a Lasallian institution, we see the importance of a policy to enable us to bring this agenda at the institutional level, where conversations, policies, structures, programs, and support are provided to those who need them.
