

SOME CHALLENGES AND LESSONS LEARNED: WRITING AUN-QA SAR

Maria Hidayati

Evynurul Lally Zen

Syamsul Bachri

Imam Agus Basuki

Imam Mukhlis

INTRODUCTION

- UM is aware of the importance on keeping up with the significant influences of the globalization and international networking.
- It is most urgent that the university prepares and yields smart and competitive graduates to face fierce competition among nations in the world.
- UM needs to move forward by making use of the opportunities for ASEAN University Network Quality Assurance.

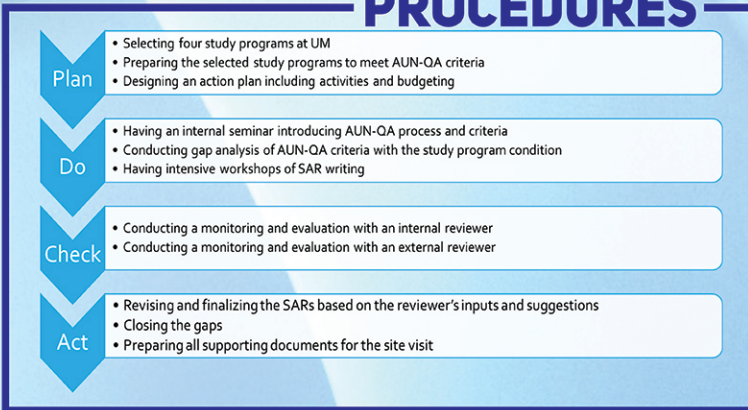

AIMS

- This study is to present and describe some challenges during the process of writing SAR of AUN-QA
- This study is to present and describe some lessons learned during the process of writing SAR of AUN-QA.

THE TARGETED STUDY PROGRAMS

- English Language Teaching
- Indonesian Language and Literature Education
- Physics
- Biology

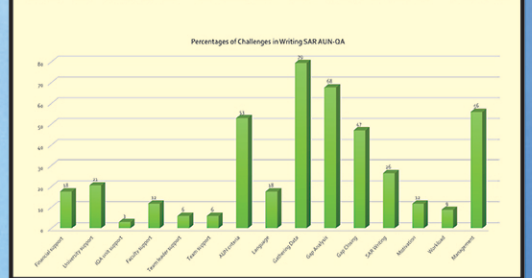

PROCEDURES

RESULTS

Challenges	Lesson Learned
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Financial support • Top management support • Data gathering • Gap closing • Change management 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A need to have systematic and integrated data system • An urge to obtain active participations of relevant stakeholders • A necessity to maintain quality and standards pre & post AUN-QA assessment

A SURVEY TO SAR TEAM

SOME CAPTURED ACTIVITIES

SUGGESTIONS

- In view of the challenges and lesson learned, communicating intent and socialization to all relevant stakeholders take a key part in bringing the SAR writing and the whole process of AUN-QA assessment successful. It is done to raise an awareness, to help navigate the assessment process, and most importantly to confront the problems and challenges.