cordially invites you to a certificate program on
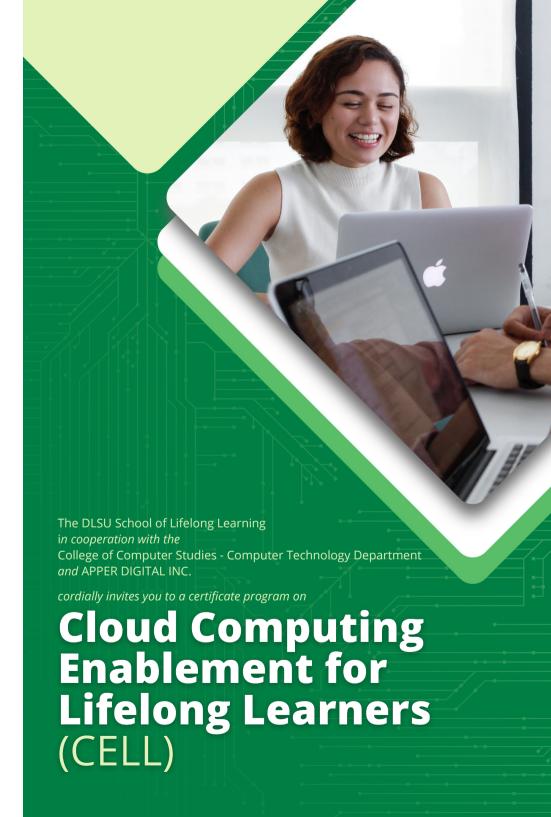

Cloud Computing Enablement for Lifelong Learners (CELL)

The Cloud Computing Enablement for Lifelong Learners (CELL) is a 72-hour comprehensive, progressive, and practical cloud enablement program designed to produce competent and industry-ready cloud professionals, with the end goal of preparing the participants to take the AWS Certified Cloud Practitioner Exam.

This program will take three (3) months to complete and is divided into three phases:

Phase 1
Modern IT Applications, Infrastructures, and Practice Course (MIAP)
Weeks 1-4

The first phase of the program is the Modern IT Applications, Infrastructures, and Practice (MIAP). It is a refresher course that focuses on the concepts and practical tools usage in computer networking, systems administration, virtual machines and applications.

July 9, 16, 23, & 30, 2022
9:00AM-12:00NN (Synchronous)
1:00PM-4:00PM (Asynchronous)

Phase 2
Cloud Practitioner Mentorship Program for Amazon Web Services (CPMP AWS)
Weeks 5-10

The second phase of the program is the Cloud Practitioner Mentorship Program for Amazon Web Services (CPMP AWS). It is an intensive mentorship program that covers cloud services, compute services, storage services, database services, monitoring services, scaling and platform services.
For ten (10) weeks, the program will include 3 hours of instructor-led discussions and 3 hours of self-paced laboratory activities every week.
